ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I bow myself with gratefulness before God Almighty for everything he provided me to accomplish this study. In all my ups and downs, His love and mercy picked me and led to this shore, I wanted to reach.

Though it is difficult to express my gratitude using words; I would like to thank –

- First and foremost, the Women were involved in this research as respondents, as well as to the family caregivers for sharing their time, candor and personal experiences with me.

- My supervisor, Dr. Ashvini Kumar Singh, Asst Professor, Dept of Social Work, a wonderful person and teacher who guided me in conducting this study. I thank him for the freedom he gave me to explore, to try new things and to learn from them. Without his encouragement I would have never started, continued and ended this journey.

- Prof. N. U. Khan, Head of the department, Dr. Neelam Sukramani, Dr. Vani Narula, Dr. Habeebul Rahman, Dr. Archana Dassi, Dr. Sigamani P, Dr. Reshmi Jain, Dr. U K Popli, the other faculty members and administrative staffs of the Department of Social Work, for their valuable inputs, comments and support throughout this course.

- My precious friend, Mr. Jayaraj K.P who took pain and patience to help me throughout my study, whose critical but constructive and supportive guidance helped me to expedite the work and facilitated me to endure the entire process. And, his perfect half, Ms. Remya Ramakrishnan who joined me at the midway to energize and comfort with a graceful relation of sisterhood which I always enjoy.

- My beloved- Smitha and family; Loveena, Leora and Joji; Pr. Samuel Thomas and family; Pr. Bony Kurian and family; TCFC church, Caroline C John and Resmi Vijayan- for being my home in Delhi and for all the support and care they showered upon me.
- My valuable friends who made my work and personal life easy during the course of time-

Ms Prerana Singh Nirmal, my energizer who constantly supported by being with me, Ms Sanghamitra Dhar, always fill my incomplete sentences with enormous patience and supported me with all her emotions, Ms. LHM Gangte, who helped with all her resources, Ms. Shweta Verma, encouraged with her unconditional love and professionalism, Mrs Megha CM, supported with love and care, Mr. Aneesudheen K.T who took extra effort to put together the procedures of my data collection and always been kind enough to be available with helping hands, Mrs. Shernas Muthu and family who unconditionally supported me with genuine heart, Ms Seema Naaz, Ms. Aliya Amin, Mr. Aneesh Thaivalappil, Mr. Sunil Kumar, Ms. Alka Singh, Ms. Jennifer, Ms. Priyanka Sagar, Ms. Prachi Aggarwal, Ms. Shivani Dey, Mr. Saifudheen Kunju, Ms Deepa Mariam Varghese, Muneer, Mufeed, Shefeek, Anjad, Hani, Jessi, Haris, Siva, Anju, Thasmeem, Rabia, other research scholars and students of Jamia Millia Islamia especially; my course work batch mates (March 2010) and Smriti with whom I shared my best time in this journey.

- Dr. Sameer Babu, Mr. Saju Parakkal, Mr. Kime Pubyang for the support in analysing data of this study.

- Regional Cancer Center, Trivandrum- a group of magnificent human beings who helped me in abundance to make my study possible with this esteemed cancer specialty hospital specially Dr. Chandramohan, Additional Professor, Division of Surgical Oncology, Ms. Sreerekha K.R, Medical social worker, Ms. Jayanthi, Researcher, Ms. Asha, Ms. Rejitha, doctors, nurses, and other staffs who shared their experiences and provided with all possible recourses to conduct my field work at the hospital. I would extend heartiest gratitude towards Ms. Dhanya V, Dr. Leela who supported with their love, care and resources.

- The Director, Department of social work, medical social workers, doctors and nurses of Amala Institute of Medical Sciences, Thrissur; for their support in the data collection.
- My dear relatives, cousins, friends and well-wishers; especially-
  - Jibin K John, Shine Mathew, Ranjith, Rijesh, Vinod, Harshidha, Priya, Liji, Stefy, Jisha, Shabeer, Jijoy Mathew, Pr James Varghese, Titto and Nidhi, Pr Philip John and family, Pr Samuel Kutty and family for being with me.
- Sujith, my friend supported with all his resources and departed with an eternal good bye.
- Ms. Jyothi Lakshmi CR, my teacher inspired me with her passion in Medical Social Work.

My in-law family- Dad; Pr. K M Mathew; mom; Mrs. Thankamani Mathew and brother Praise Mathew for their love and support throughout this course by giving me the freedom of opinion and opportunities.

Last not least, I dedicate my thesis to-
- The living memories of my beloved husband, Mr. Febin K. Mathews-
  He enlightened my life with his encouragement, patience and understanding from the beginning and took his turn at a crossroad to fly away to the resting place. Nevertheless my words failed to express gratitude and love to him; his dreams were my motivation and lovely stronghold all through this journey.
- Also, to my amazing father, Mr. T.C. Mathew, my lovely mom, Mrs. Mary Mathew; my darling sister, Mrs. Jilsy Mathews T and my beloved brother-in-law, Mr. Sanju-for being constant pillars of my support, seen or unseen; you gave me the confidence to move forward.