I derive an immense pleasure by recording the gratitude and appreciation thanks to all individuals and institutions that have extended their utmost co-operation in various stages of this study. At the outset, I acknowledge with a deep sense of gratitude, my sincere thanks to my Research Supervisor, Prof. V. Ravishankar Rai, for expounding the research problem, guidance and critical comments given throughout my research programme. I am highly indebted to him for all his help which enabled me to complete my research work successfully.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to faculty members of the Department of Studies in Microbiology, Dr. Shubha Gopal, Associate Professor, Dr. N. Lakshmi Devi, Associate Professor, Dr. S. Satish, Assistant Professor and Dr. M.Y. Sreenivasa, Assistant Professor for their advice and constructive comments which provided a good basis for the present thesis.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Martin Welch, Senior Lecturer, Department of Biochemistry, University of Cambridge, Cambridge, United Kingdom for hosting me as visiting researcher, support and inestimable guidance during the Newton Bhabha Placement program. Special thanks to Prof. G. P Salmond, Department of Biochemistry, University of Cambridge, Cambridge for his support and encouragement.

I like to appreciate intellectual inputs and support from Dr. Pradeepa V Samaga and Dr. Rakshith D. Also many thanks to lab-mates Dr. Avinash, Dr. Jamuna, Mrs. Chaitra, Mr. Mohammed Aman, Ms. Kiana, Mr. P. Sankar Ganesh, Mr. Saketh Siddharth, and Mr. Arun Renganathan, Mrs. Manasa,
Mrs. Kankana, Ms. Ranjitha and all my fellow colleagues for making my work successful.

I express my sincere thanks to all colleagues at Welch and Salmond lab, University of Cambridge, Mrs. Alison Drew, chief technician, Dr. Stephen Dolan, Ms. Eve, Mrs. Yassmin Alhabudin, Mr. Liam Jones, Mr. Larson, Ms. Alicia Caunter, Ms. Audrey, Mrs. Veena Mohan, Ms. Alyssa, Ms. Aurelie, Dr. Rita Manson, Ms. Chin Mei, Mr. Ray, Mr. Alex Quintero, Mr. Andy, Ms. Bihe, Ms. Nathalie and other all members for their valuable suggestions, assistance, critiques, guidance and direct/indirect moral support while completing this research.

I know that, I cannot afford to repay the debts of love, trust and patience, which my family members invested on me. I can only express my deep sense of gratitude to my parents Mr. Shivaprasad Shastry and Mrs. Vimala Shastry who never shared their pains with me. They rendered me enormous support, encouragement and motivation that was given to me during the whole tenure of my research is unforgettable. I wish heartfelt gratitude to my sister Mrs. Sowmya Shastry, brother-in-law Mr. Yashodhara Shirthadi and nephew Jr. Skanda Shirthadi for boundless support, advices, care and kind help which cannot be forgotten.

I would like to express my profound gratitude to the University of Mysore for giving me an opportunity to carry out Ph.D study. I am extremely grateful to Department of Science and Technology, New Delhi for DST-INSPIRE fellowship to carry out this research work.
