ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have great pleasure to thank my research guide Prof. V. Kunhali, with whom my association extends from 1976 when I joined the Department of History as a student of M.A. and I am greatly indebted to Prof. V. Kunhali for his active involvement, constructive criticism at every stage of my work. It is a truth that I worked comfortably, enjoying much freedom under his guidance and above all I am extremely grateful for the care, love and affection I received from him.

I gratefully acknowledge the help of Dr. A. Muhammad Maheen, Head of the Department of History, University of Calicut for providing all the helps.

I remember with gratitude the late Prof. A. P. Ibrahim Kunju, Prof. S. M. Muhammad Koya and Prof. K. J. John, my teachers in the Department of History, University of Calicut.

This work has come out in this form with much help from Prof. M. G. S. Narayanan, who helped me in all the ways through discussions and valuable suggestions.

My sincere thanks are due to Dr. Asokan Mundon, Professor, Department of History, University of Calicut, who helped me to complete the work.

I have greatly benefited from discussions with Prof. M. P. Sreekumaran Nair, Prof. K. K. N. Kurup, Prof. M. R. Raghava Varier, Dr. Rajan Gurukkal, Prof. Kesavan Veluthat, Prof. K. N. Ganesh and Dr. M. T. Narayanan. I thank them all.

It is not an exaggeration if I say, words are inadequate to thank all the faculty members of the Department of History University of Calicut and Department of History Govt. College, Madappally for all the favours and help and friendly enquiries about the progress of my work.
It is a matter of great pleasure and privilege to me, to put in words my gratitude towards numerous persons who have come directly or indirectly at the various stages of my research work. Although it is not possible to name each and every one with whom I have interacted during the course of my work, a few names have to be pointed out.

Dr. P. T. Sebastian was kind enough to spare his valuable time to give detailed comments and suggestions on one of the earlier drafts which helped me to a great extent to sharpen my ideas. I owe my special thanks to him.

Sri. P. T. Thomas, Dr. Leena Nambiar, Prof. Chithra Gangadharan, Sreela K.P, Vidhya, Sandeep M.V and Smt. E. S. Latha helped me in many ways, correcting the manuscripts, type scripts, suggesting improvements. My sincere thanks are due to them.

I am also indebted to the University Grants Commission and Government of Kerala for granting financial assistance and study leave under Faculty Improvement Programme.

Though my sentiments can hardly be conveyed through a few words, I must mention my colleagues and friends at Government College, Madapally. I refrain from naming them all, since the list is too long.

I am grateful to Dr. Elizabeth Abraham for clearing some of the cobwebs in my mind.

To my friend Dr. Sathi Ramachandran whose support I always counted upon.

The help and co-operation of staff of different libraries particularly Malabar Institute for Research and Development Library, Vatakara is commendable. I place on record my sincere thanks to them.

I thank the staff of library and office of the Department of History, University of Calicut.

The thesis was typed by Suja and others of Rajendra Laser Printers, Payyanur, Balu of Bina Zerox, Calicut University and Rajani. But for their sincere co-operation this work would have been delayed. I record my indebtedness to them.

I thank Ramya, Sharanya, Jineesh, and Anoop for the invaluable help which they rendered.

While they had no direct hand in this work, I must give credit to my late parents who made me reach to this point.

A big thanks to my children- Amrutha and Arun, who goaded me to finish this thesis, though I must add that I did not appreciate it at that time.

There are no lexical gestures to express my indebtedness to my husband Sri.P.K.Balakrishnan for his valuable help and guidance, constant encouragement and patience which this thesis would never have materialized..
