ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Having successfully completed my research work on Lorry Body Building Industry with special reference to Namakkal at M.Phil level and as one serving in an institution for more than two decades with easy accessibility to Namakkal which is highly clustered with Lorry Body Building Units, I was inspired greatly to choose the same topic indepth by extending the scope and coverage and other multitudes of problems connected with it within the frontiers of Tamil Nadu for the research programme leading to Ph.D. Degree.

I am really fortunate in having got an opportunity to do this work in the Department of Commerce, Madras University P.G. Extension Centre, Salem. I wish to express my gratitude to the Madras University for giving me a golden opportunity to undertake this doctoral programme on part-time basis.

I wish to record my sincere gratitude and heartfelt thanks to my supervisor, Dr. N. VINAYAKAM, M.Com., Ph.D., Professor and Head, Department of Commerce, University of Madras, P.G. Extension Centre, Salem, who spared so much of his precious time for guiding me to do this research work. My close association with him for more than two decades motivated me to do this work.
under his guidance. His benign kindness, sustained interest and able guidance have all inspired me to complete this humble work within the stipulated period. In fact, he is the driving force behind this dissertation. I thank him profusely for having evinced keen interest in the problem selected and for having made himself available for discussion for hours together despite his heavy pressing assignments from various Universities and professional bodies from all over India.

My sincere thanks are due to the enlightened Management of Kandaswami Kandar's College, Velur (Salem), Prof. P. Shanmugasundaram, M.A., B.T., Founder Principal and Major Dr. T. Kandasami, M.A., B.Ed., Ph.D., the present Principal of the college for having graciously permitted me to do the doctoral programme on part-time basis.

I am highly indebted to the University Grants Commission, New Delhi, for granting munificent financial assistance to further my research work. I am also thankful to the Librarians of Madras University, Annamalai University and the National Social Science Documentation Centre New Delhi and Institute of Road Transport, Tharamani, Madras for providing me all the necessary facilities in completing my research work.
I will be failing in my duty, if I do not express my sincere gratitude to Dr. K. Palaniappan, Professor of Statistics, P.S.G. College of Arts and Science, Coimbatore for having given his expert advice and encouragement in the completion of my research work.

My whole hearted thanks are also due to Dr. N. Krishnamoorthy, Professor of Computer Science, Sri Avinashilingam Home Science, Deemed University, Coimbatore, a versatile genius in Computer Science for the care and patience he has bestowed in programming and processing the data compiled for the research work on the computer.

I thank all my co-researchers and teaching staff of the department, Madras University P.G. Extension Centre, Salem, who have been a continuous source of inspiration and encouragement for me.

I am much indebted to my friends and relatives for their spontaneous help and assistance extended in this research study.
