To my parents
I extend my thanks to Dr. A. Ranganathan who always had solutions to my computer-related problems. His special brand of highly amusing jokes over tea/coffee had always helped to create a congenial atmosphere in the lab.

I would like to give special thanks to Joginder who was always there to help whenever needed. I remember, us telling him that our lab can’t run without him not even a single day, whenever he used to come after a vacation, and believe me, it is true.

I express my warmest regards to the director, Prof. V. S. Chauhan for providing help in all respects.

Even though I had a good time at work, I could not have coped without some time off. Outside, Shweta and Akanksha, my friends were always there to cheer me up. Our long talks over lunch, their suggestions for keeping pace in thesis writing, discussing all our problems, no matter how silly they were, will always stay long in my memory.

I want to thank my friends, Neema, Amit, Bhavna, Simran, Mintu and Tarannum for their cheerful cooperation.

Loving thanks to my juniors, Sidharth, Suman Ranjan Das, Smita, Dasaradhi and the recent recruits Anand, Suchita, Saima and Alka for making research enjoyable.

On this occasion, I would like to remember with gratitude the help and support given to me by my seniors Ana Vassileva and Amit V. Pandey.

The financial support provided by CSIR, New Delhi in the form of JRF and SRF is duly acknowledged.

Above and beyond all, I would like to thank my parents for their endless love, support, patience, inspiration and encouragement. Special thanks to my brother for his support, care, affection and his “Magical computer expertise” and to my understanding and caring husband. Their unquestioning faith in me has helped to make all this possible. They have given me more than I can say.
