To, the only person in the world who would have appreciated it most without being able to read or understand a single word of it; yet, who taught me how to draw a straight line.
My mother, late Smt. Radha Devi.