Acknowledgements

Prof. Zafar Imam, for suggestions, constructive criticisms, and encouragement right from the inception to the completion of this study.

Prof. M. I. Isayev, for rendering the personal copies of his books for reference.

Anjani K Das, for arranging various documents, books, and clippings necessary for this work and sending them regularly from Moscow.

Emma Volodarskaya, Chancellor of the Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages and Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Philology, and Vida Mikhalchenko, Rector, Institute of Linguistics of the Russian Academy of Sciences, for inviting me to participate in the International Scientific Conference on Language and Culture, 14-17 September 2001, in Moscow and thus providing an opportunity to have stimulating interactions with linguists from all over the world.

Prof. H. C. Pande, Prof. R. Kumar, Prof. A. R. Rehman, Prof. Anvita Abbi, and Prof. Vaishna Narang, for initiating me to the basics of linguistic inquiry.

Maria Kostyeva, Natalya, Titova Elena, and Tatiana, students at the Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages, for providing immense help in conducting the linguistic survey in Moscow.

Amiya and Apoorva, for keeping my spirits up and my hamstrings in working order with their playful interruptions, every time I needed a break or even when I did not.

Maheshwar Das Mahesh, for being my father.

Arbinda K Das, for being a role model, and also, my brother.

My Bhaabhee, Vibha and Pratima Das, and my sister, Ranjana Das, for tiptoeing through the household tasks, exuding, perhaps, an ineffable aura of admiration and support.
Nasrin Faruqi, for making the waters part and the ideas meet.

Ranjay Kumar, for casting an editor’s eye over the entire manuscript and improving its style appreciably.

Manoj K Mishra, Atul Bhargava, Dr. B. Venkat Mani, Jasveer Singh, Satyendra Singh, Dr. Yukteshwar Kumar, Dr. Anil Kumar, Dilip Kumar, Durga D Tripathi, Harish Kapoor, T. P. Pandey, Bal Krishna Dubey, Shaquil Abid Shams, Praveen Tamrakar and Mohita Takkar for helping in diverse ways, and also for, being mine.

I am immensely grateful to all of you, hoping that you allow me to exonerate you all from responsibility for the uses to which I have put your suggestions.

Thank you.
