ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The most important factor in a research study is the constant guidance and encouragement from the person who is supervising the research work. In this regard I am very lucky to have Prof. Dawa T. Norbu as my supervisor. His critical remarks and frequent suggestions made me understand the subject of the research thoroughly and at the same time, he cleared my doubts and apprehensions on the related issues which only widened my knowledge of the subject. He also helped me in collecting research materials and references, which went a long way in accomplishing my task. I feel greatly indebted to him for his helpful and cooperative attitude.

I express my thanks to Prof. K. Warikoo, Chairperson of CSCSEASWPS/SIS, for his kind cooperation and occasional suggestions, which proved very fruitful so far as my research is concerned.

This research could not have become a reality without the active support and cooperation of those involved in library work. I thus acknowledge the cooperation displayed by the librarian and other staffs of J.N.U. library, Tibet House library, ICWA library, Teenmurti library, IDSA library, American Center library, Cultural Centre, Embassy of Peoples Republic of China, New Delhi and Library of Tibetan Works and Archives, Dharmsala. I want to express special thanks to Mr. Gregory C. Harness (Senate Librarian, US Congress), Mr. Pema Yeshi (Librarian, LTWA, Dharmsala), Ms. Dickyi Yangzom (Incharge, Documentation Centre, DIIR, Dharmsala), Sri Vimal Sharma (Kotwali Bazaar, Dharmsala), Sri Shyam Parande (Gen. Sec., Seva International) and Pema Thinley (Editor, Tibetan Review).
I express my thanks to all my seniors and friends who kept up my spirit during the tough days of research and also came up with useful suggestions. Among my seniors I would like to register my gratitude to Dr. M. N. Rajesh, Dr. Hansveer Singh, Dr. Rajiv Nayan, Dr. Raghuvansh, Dr. Satish Kumar and Dr. Phoolbadan. Among my friends I would like to thank Mr. Suresh, Saroj, Rakesh Srivastav, Prem, Vandana, Durgesh, Sanjay Lal, Sudhir Shyam, Vinay Pradhan, Krishna Tyagi, Rahul, Chandrashekhar, Sudhir Singh, Pradeep, Arvind Pandey, Dhiraj Pandey, Mukesh Mishra, Rajbir Singh, Ram Nivas Arya, Keshav Mishra, Sailaja and many others.

I sincerely express my gratitude to my family members who never let me feel discouraged and whose continuous support has helped to ultimately complete this research. My parents and brothers (Arun Kr. Sinha and Manoj Kr. Sinha) have been constant source of inspiration. My affectionate Bhabhi has made me cheerful all the way. At this moment I do remember the days I spent with my late Nana Ji who used to inspire me a lot. I would also like to thank my local guardians Kumar Chandra Bhushan, Kumar Bidhu Bhushan and Bhabhi who have always been very supportive and helpful.

I express my special thanks to Mr. Saktivelu, Dabloo (Ramendra) and Niraj who have come to my rescue whenever my computer developed some snag.

I would like to thank all the staffs especially Ms. Asha, Mr. Chahar and Mr. Dhir of the Centre for South, Central, Southeast Asian and Southwest Pacific studies, School of International Studies, J.N.U. for necessary help and cooperation.

Last but certainly not the least, I submit myself before the almighty God for his constant blessings.

(Rajesh Kumar Sinha)
