Acknowledgement

This thesis has been completed under the guidance of Dr. Samir Kumar Dasgupta, Reader of Sociology, University of Kalyani. Not only his work, but also his guidance were constant sources of inspirations to me to strive for perfection is my work. It was both education and privilege to work under him. Any amount of gratitude I express to him would be inadequate. I am grateful to him for giving me valuable advice in the field of educations.

I am also thankful to the Head, Sri Pujan Kumar Sen, Department of Sociology, University of Kalyani, for facilities.

I am also thankful to all the teachers of the Department of Sociology, University of Kalyani for their cooperation as well as encouragement during the present work. I am particularly grateful to Dr. Pradipp Sahu, Dr. Ajit Das who made valuable suggestions about the general research work.

Special thanks to M/s Laser Tech Computer, Kalyani for preparing the manuscript carefully.
