I owe a huge debt of gratitude to the one and only above all of us, the omnipresent God, for answering my prayers, giving me the strength to plod on despite my constitution want to give up and throw off my research work, thank you so much dear Lord.

I am deeply indebted to my supervisor Dr. Ajit Kumar Baishya (Professor, Department of Linguistics, Assam University Silchar) for his valuable guidance, for the continuous support, patience, motivation, enthusiasm, and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor. I owe a sense of gratitude and humble respect to Dr. Ajit Kumar Baishya for his insightful suggestions, inspirations as I hurdle all the obstacles during the research work, my work would have not seen the light of the day and this thesis would have not been possible without his guidance and encouragement.

I sincerely acknowledge my gratitude to Dr. S. Ganesh Baskaran, Head of Linguistics Department, Assam University and all the faculty members, Department of Linguistics, Assam University for their co-operations, encouragements and valuable suggestions.
I acknowledge Prof. Tapodhir Bhattacharjee, Vice-Chancellor of Assam University Silchar, who provided me the opportunity to pursue my research work.

Far too many people to mention individually have assessed in so many ways during my work. They all have my sincere gratitude. In particular, I would like to thank Prof. A.K. Mishra (Professor in EFLU, Shillong). Dr. Sylvanus Lamare (Principal St. Edmund College). Dr. G.D.P. Sastry (CIIL, Mysore), Prof. Paul Sidwell, Research Scientist (CRCL, Bangkok) inspite of their busy schedule offered invaluable suggestions, comments and encouragement of many counts.

I am also grateful to all the informants, the Khasi and the Kharia community in general for their sincere support and co-operations.

A heartfelt, acknowledgement goes to my father and mother Shri. K. Robin Mawrie and Smti. Arsina Shabong for always being there when I need their affectionate inspirations, encouragements, supporting me morally, spiritually, financially throughout my life without them I would have not been in this stage of my career. They deserve more credit than I can ever give them.

A heartfelt gratitude goes to my three brothers and four sisters for their affectionate co-operations, prayers, supports and encouragements.
I gratefully acknowledge Dr. C. M. R. Sawkmie and the Church of God Meghalaya and Assam for their unceasing prayers and affection showered upon me at every moment of my obstacles.

A penultimate acknowledgement goes to the co-scholars, friends and well-wishers for their active co-operation and suggestions. I am also indebted to Mr. Goutam Ghosh for his active co-operation, sacrifice to help me in collecting the data and all the members of the Ghosh family for their kind of sympathy, affectionate encouragements and supports.

Lastly, but not the least I am also thankful to University Grants Commission for providing me financial supports in the form of Rajiv Gandhi National Fellowship.

While my debts, both general and specific are many in a venture of this sort, I accept the whole responsibility for any error that might have crept into this work.
