Acknowledgements

With a deep sense of gratitude I acknowledge the invaluable help of my research guide Dr. Raju K. Thadikkaran, Senior Lecturer, School of International Relations, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam. The thesis in its present form would not have been possible without his active involvement and sincere help.

I am grateful to Dr. G. P. Ramachandra, Director, School of International Relations and other members of the faculty. A special word of thanks to Mr. K. N. Harilal for his valuable suggestions.

I am extremely grateful to Mr. Robert Batch, Assistant Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalisation Service, United States, for sending me the immigration data most needed in the study. Thanks are also due to the staff of various institutions and libraries I visited for data collection - Jawaharlal Nehru University, Institute of Applied Manpower Research, Department of Science and Technology, National Institute of Science, Technology and Development Studies (NISTADS), United Nations Information Centre, UNESCO, ILO, Research and Information System for Non-aligned countries - all situated in New Delhi - and the US Information Service, Madras, American Studies Research Centre, Hyderabad and Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram. The service rendered by the office and library staff of School of International Relations as well as the Mahatma Gandhi University Library deserves special mention. Financial assistance from Mahatma Gandhi University, Indian Council of Social Science Research and American Studies Research Centre, Hyderabad are greatly acknowledged.
My heartfelt thanks to my friends Mathew, Rekha and Hima for their encouragement and sincere help, especially during the preparation of this thesis. I am indebted to my friends Elizabeth, Shima and Sheilu for their valuable help during various stages of my work.

I can’t belittle the sincerity of Dr. Alice Jose, Dr. K. Indulekha, Ms. O.V. Usha, Prasanna, Vijayan P., Mathu, Sachithra, Saritha and Lovzy. My sincere thanks to Jyothi, Betty, Sunitha, Indu and Rachel for their love and affection during my stay in the Hostel.

I express my special thanks to M/s. Lars for the word processing and photocopying of my thesis.

To express the inexpressible, I acknowledge my indebtedness to my parents and family members for their perpetual and unreserved support.

Above all, I bow my head before God the Almighty for blessing me to complete this work successfully.

Mariamma Mathew
