ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Afghanistan is one region which has always drawn my interest. But this region has remained inflicted with perpetual violence and conflict. And being a woman, the violation of rights of Afghani women has always moved me. I wanted to understand the reason behind the conflict and analyse what measures can be suggested to prevent Afghanistan from slipping into turmoil and turbulence. After extensive and intensive reading on Afghanistan, I have finally drawn out some short term and long term conclusions which can aid in building peace in Afghanistan.

I assure that I have done complete justice to this topic and my thesis will surely be an immense contribution to the literature of Afghanistan.

Prof. Darvesh Gopal, my guide, philosopher and mentor has extended me complete support, encouragement and help at every stage of study. He has been a constant source of inspiration owing to his vast knowledge, wide vision and incisive analysis of various issues. I shall remain indebted to him.

I also thank Prof. Anurag Joshi and Prof. S. Vijaysekhar Reddy for their unstinted support.

I must express my gratitude to the staff of Nehru Library. And appreciate immensely valuable content provided by National Library and Information Services Infrastructure for Scholarly Content, an initiative of Ministry of Human Resource Development under National Mission on Education through ICT.

The acknowledgment would have been incomplete without thanking my family for their consistent support and encouragement.
