ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present work was carried out in the Department of English, University of Kalyani, West Bengal, India, under the supervision and constant guidance of Sri Tirthankar Chattopadhyay, Reader in English. Without his help and valuable suggestions it would not have been possible to give shape to this dissertation.

The author expresses her gratitude to the National Library, Calcutta, American Center Library, Ramkrishna Mission Institute of Culture Library, for providing her with the necessary books.

The author owes much to the University Grants Commission, for offering a Fellowship and contingent grant to carry out the work.

The author is thankful to all the teachers and members of the office staff of the Department of English, University of Kalyani, for helping her in various ways.

Thanks are also due to the Deputy Librarian and staff of the Central Library, University of Kalyani. The author is grateful to Dr. Norman Hindson, London for sending some books not readily available in India. The author is thankful to Mr. V. Venkata Subbaiah, Department of English, Besant Theosophical College, Madanapalle for help in locating a particular reference. The author is grateful to her husband Dr. Apurba Kumar Basu for his encouragement.

The author thanks all those who have helped her in anyway and whose names have been involuntarily omitted from this list.
