ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

During the tenure of my research work, I have received a lot of encouragement, suggestions, advice and assistance from various sources. I would like to place on record my deep gratitude to each one of them.

First of all I praise and thank God Almighty for guiding me in the right path and providing me wisdom and courage to complete the work in time. His blessings enabled me to get timely assistance from diverse corners which resulted in refining the work in a simple and systematic way even though the topic of my research was complex in nature.

Words are inadequate to express my deep sense of indebtedness and gratitude to my supervising teacher, Dr. P.J. Philip, former Principal and Head of the Department of Economics, St. Thomas College, Kozhenchery. His constant encouragement, suggestions and perfect supervision helped me to complete this research work within the time frame. It has been a memorable experience working with him and I deeply appreciate the pain he has taken in careful reading and editing this thesis. I also take this opportunity to thank his entire family for the support and wholehearted encouragement extended to me during the term of my research.

I am highly indebted to Dr. Lakshmy Devi, former Head of the Department in Economics, John Mathai Centre, Aranattukara, Thrissur who offered me guidance in the initial stages of the work which helped me to crystallize my ideas on the issues researched. I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Mridul Eapen, former member, Kerala State Planning Board for her valuable suggestions during the early stages of my work. I am highly grateful to Dr. George Mathew, Director, Institute of Social Sciences, New Delhi for his valuable suggestions and making me available appropriate secondary data sources for this work.

I also thank the management, former Principal and Head of the Department in Economics Dr. Abraham George, Principal Prof. Kurien John, Head of the Department Prof. Remani George, other faculty members of the Department of Economics and office staff, Marthoma College Thiruvalla for providing all the facilities, encouragement and support throughout my research. I am grateful to the management, my former Principal Dr. Saramma Varghese, Principal Dr. George Varghese and my colleagues of Catholicate College, Pathanamthitta for their constant support and assistance extended to me during the period of my research. Words fail to express my gratitude towards Prof. Daisy Mathew, Head of the Department in Economics and Prof. Anne. M. John, Head of the Department in History of Catholicate College, Pathanamthitta for their encouragement and assistance extended. I extend my sincere gratitude to the University Grants Commission for providing teacher fellowship under Faculty Development Programme to complete my work.

I express my sincere thanks to the library staff of Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, especially Mr. Anil Kumar for guiding me through the huge treasure of information at their disposal and permitting me to avail of the facilities. I express my sincere gratitude to Sri. Binoy, NORMA Thiruvananthapuram for guiding me in the various statistical techniques used in this work to process the primary data.

A special word of gratitude to each of the service sector women employees involved in the primary data collection for spending some of their precious free time at home and patiently answering my queries. I thank Sri. V.N. Devarajan and Sri. P.K. Sreekanthbabu, overseers of the Irrigation Department for their sincere assistance during the primary data collection. The members of the local bodies extended their whole-hearted support in identifying some service sector employees in the area for snowball sampling technique used in this study. It was their co-operation which made the study a reality.

I express my gratitude towards Sri. Sanil .P. Jaison and Adv. Vinu Palakkal for their help in proof reading the thesis. I also take this opportunity to thank my parents and all my family members who have been real pillars of support during these years. I express my sincere gratitude to Er. Binu Baby, my husband, for the assistance in primary data collection and spending his precious time in editing, formatting and proof reading the thesis. Finally, I express my gratitude to my children Shaun Binu and Sharon Binu for bearing with my frequent absences from home during the course of my research.
