ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. Girish Kumar R, Assistant Professor (on lien), School of International Relations and Politics (SIRP), Mahatma Gandhi University, who has been my guide and supervisor in completing this study. I am indebted to Dr. Raju K. Thadikkaran, Director, SIRP and other faculty members of the School. I must also thank Prof. Ramesh Chand (Director, National Centre for Agricultural Economics and Policy Research, New Delhi), Prof. Prem Vashistha (Dean Sharda University, Noida), Dr. Sateesh Babu (Kerala Agricultural University), Dr. K. J. Joseph (CDS), Dr.Anil Kuruvilla (Kerala Agricultural University), and others in Kerala and elsewhere who helped me in different ways.

I gratefully acknowledge the help and support rendered by Mr. Babu K.V., Mr. Raju P. K and Johnson who helped me in the survey during the Farmers Mela at Kerala Agricultural University. I am also indebted to all farmers in Wayanad and Pathanamthita and other respondents who helped me gather information on pepper and cardamom.

I am also grateful to the librarian and other staff of the SIRP who helped me wholeheartedly. In the course of my research work, the libraries and institutions of Mahatma Gandhi University, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, Library of IGNOU and Publications of Centad (Centre for Trade and Development, New Delhi) have been the main sources of information and data. I am indebted to Centad for supporting an international conference in Hyderabad on the same issue which inspired me to pursue my research work. I am grateful to all my friends who have monetarily and physically helped me carry out the research. I would like to give my special thanks especially to Dr. Santhosh Mathew (Central University of Pondicherry) and Vishnu K (ILI, Delhi) for their suggestions and comments and also Vishwa Mathew for support and help in completing my thesis. I would also like to give my special thanks to my parents who have financially supported my travelling and subsistence during the research work. I am equally thankful to my wife Dr. Nisha Varghese for her cooperation and helping me complete my Thesis. I would like to dedicate my work to all the farmers from Kerala and India who work and toil struggling against all the odds of weather and market.

I would also like to thank and praise M/s Minitek Computers, Athirampuzha for precision word processing and printing with speed. Last but not the least I would like to give my special thanks to my two kids Nalin and Ananya who have been an inspiration during my studies.
