DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSION

NADI

Referring page No. 29- 46 and studying various descriptions regarding sharir of Nadi it is generally translated as a nerve means in Ayurvedic language any channel, such as, the sinus, umbilical cord, intestines etc. and also the nerve (C.V. 5/16). This has led to a great chaos in the Ayurvedic literature when studied in terms of modern physiology. In Yoga and Tantra Saastrass however Nadi mean chiefly a nerve and hence the chapter is studied and included in Dhamani.
