ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

No human endeavour has ever been wholly individual in all his efforts; Man has always been helped by people and forces connected directly or indirectly with the task undertaken by him. The work presented here obviously could not be an exception to this.

The first person I would like to thank is my Supervisor, Guide and Philosopher, Dr. Smt. G. Prasanthi Garu, her encouragement, constructive criticism and suggestions have paved the way to complete the work successfully. In spite of her busy schedule, she could spare her valuable time all along the line. Indeed, Dr. G. Prasanthi Garu, had been the ideal mentor I was looking for and it’s been a valuable experience to work with her. I sincerely express my deep sense of gratitude to her.

I am very much grateful to Prof. K. Rajagopal Garu, In-charge Vice chancellor, JNTUA, Ananthapuramu for his encouragement in completing this research work.

I am thankful to all the JNTUA authorities for giving me this opportunity and supporting me at every stage of my Ph.D. work.

My heartfelt thanks to Dr. N. Vijaya Bhaskar Choudary, M. Com, Ph.D., Secretary & Correspondent and Sri N. Krishna Kumar, M.S (USA), Chairman, Madanapalle Institute of Technology &Science (MITS), Madanapalle, for providing all facilities at their disposal and continuous interest they evinced in the progress of my research work. I express my profound feelings of gratitude to Dr. C. Yuvaraj, Principal, MITS, Madanapalle, for his constant encouragement and support throughout my research project study.

It has been a great privilege for me to complete the Minor Research Project in Mechanical Engineering with the financial help of UGC link no. F MRP-6099/15 (SERO/UGC). I sincerely thank Joint Secretary, UGC – SERO, Hyderabad for granting me the project.
I profusely thank Prof. K. Narasimhan, Professor, Department of Metallurgical Engineering and Materials Science, IIT Bombay for providing the experimental facility to carry out experimentation on the Tube hydroforming machine despite their tight schedule.

I wish to acknowledge an everlasting debt of gratitude to my parents Mr. B. Venkataiah for their blessings to complete research project work successfully. My sincere thanks to my family members especially to my wife B Jayalakshmi who set the tone for my work and remained a great support in every aspect.

I want to express my sincere thanks to all those who directly or indirectly helped me at various stages of this work.

Mr. B Sreenivasulu
