First and foremost, I thank God the Almighty for the blessings one could ever hope for and without whose help I would not have been able to accomplish this endeavor.

The journey to completing the thesis has been a long and exhausting one. However, I have been fortunate enough to fulfill this adventure with the guidance of a few wonderful persons. This research is as much a testimony of their effort as it is mine. My gratitude to them really transcends words.

With immense pleasure I express my deep sense of gratitude to my Supervising Guide, Dr. C. Jayan, Professor, Department of Psychology, University of Calicut, for his inspiring guidance, incessant encouragement, support and timely advice throughout the whole process of the thesis, reading draft after draft and offering rich feedback and fresh ideas. Indeed, he has been a great mentor for me. His ability to select and to approach compelling research problems, his high scientific standards, and his hard work set an example for everyone under his guidance-ship. I admire his ability to balance research interests and personal pursuits.

I would also like to express my deep gratitude to Dr. Baby Shari, Head of the Department of Psychology, University of Calicut, who permitted me to use the facilities of the Department and provided me with an excellent atmosphere for doing research and also gave me important guidance during my first steps into the M.Phil research program.

I am ever grateful to my teachers, Dr. Anitha Ravindran, Dr. Sasidharan and Dr. Manikandan, Department of Psychology, University of Calicut, for their inspiration and guidance. Special thanks to Dr. Rajani Ramachandran, my dear friend, who extended her unmitigated and warm support. I am also thankful to Mr. Gokulraj and Mr. Purushothaman, the Librarian and the Lab- assistant of the Department.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the teachers of the various Institutes/Colleges of Engineering for their valuable help and suggestions during the data collection, especially Dr. N. Sudharshanan, Dr. K. MuraliKrishnan, Dr. Mohamed Shafi and Dr. Vinay Panikar (NITC), Prof. John, Prof. Shiny (CET), Dr. Anil (SCTCE), Prof. Mary Luby (GECK), Prof. Celine (GCEK), Prof. Karim (T.K.M, Kollam) and Dr. Sudha (NSS, Palakkad).
Big thanks to Mr. Chandra Mohanan, Mr. Manoj and Mr. Beljith for sparing their precious time for designing this important document. I am also extremely grateful to my Parish Priest Rev. Dr. Vincent Pullikal and Br. Jose for their prayers and inspiration. They are truly angels from God shedding light in the hours of darkness, viewing secular issues from a spiritual angle.

I cherish the happy memories of my years with my co-researchers and friends, especially Mrs. Susan Varghese and Ms. Rekha Ravindran. They willingly and selflessly contributed to the test development for the research program. It is really a pleasure to mention their love, care and the excitement they exuded.

My sincere thanks to my beloved parents Prof. C.A. George and Mrs. Cricencia, whose endless love, support and encouragement sustained me throughout the study. My special thanks to my beloved father for his valuable suggestions on style. I would also like to thank my sister Susan and her family for their loving support. I also remember with gratitude my husband’s family members, for their good wishes and prayers.

Finally, I express my heartfelt gratitude to my beloved husband Petson Andrew and our little children Sharon Rya Petson and Shania Rose Petson for their prayers, support and encouragement throughout the research program. Words cannot express how grateful I am to them for the sacrifices they’ve made for my sake. Without their understanding and inspiration, it would have been impossible for me to finish this work. Once again I bow my head before God the Almighty for all his blessings and remember those who walked away from us.
