ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

First of all I would like to thank Almighty Allah, The Most Beneficial, Graceful and Merciful, for being the source of my strength, in spite of all the stress and troubles; who gave me the vigor to successfully complete this academic endeavour. It is not my efforts only but His commands that this thesis has seen the light of the day. During the period of my research, I have been blessed by Almighty Allah with some extraordinary people who have spun a web of support around me. Words can never be enough in expressing how grateful I am to those incredible people in my life who have made this thesis possible. I would like an attempt to Thank them for making my time during my research in AMU a period I will treasure.

First and foremost, my debt of gratitude is extended to my advisor and supervisor, Prof. Sheeba Hamid, Department of Commerce, AMU. Her flexibility in scheduling, gentle encouragement, brilliant suggestions and relaxed demeanor made for a good working relationship and the impetus for me to finish. I have been honored to work with her.

My sincere gratitude is reserved for Prof. Mohsin Khan, Chairperson, Department of Commerce, Prof. Nawab Ali Khan, Dean, Faculty of Commerce, AMU, for their invaluable insights. I also wish to put my immense gratitude to all the respected faculty members of the Department of Commerce, AMU to encourage me to enrich this work with their suggestions. I owe my most sincere gratitude towards Dr Asif Akhter, Department of Management Studies, AMU, for shedding light over the statistical facets of this study.

I express my thanks to the non-teaching staff of Department of Commerce, AMU. In addition to the commitment of resources to me for the completion of my thesis, they have been forthcoming with their help, specifically I would like to thank our Seminar Incharge - Mr. Anees Ahmad and Mrs. Imrana Zahra, computer lab incharge- Mr. Kazim for their support. I am also thankful to the staff of the Chairperson and Dean’s Office for their help and kind support.

Institutionally, I would also like to thank the MANF i.e. Maulana Azad National Fellowship and UGC Non-NET Fellowship for their financial support during my Ph.D. I am also indebted to Maulana Azad Library of Aligarh Muslim University for its assistance in access of useful databases and relevant books.

Thanks also goes out to employees who participated in this study including all my friends who helped in filling my online questionnaire from employees.

Research scholars often talk about loneliness during the course of their study but this is something which I never experienced at AMU. A heartfelt thanks to the really supportive and adorable friends who made this Ph.D journey something special, in particular Faiza Shahid, Khadija Khan, Sunowar Ameer, Subuhi Nasreen and Khalida Seraj. I also specially mention my thanks to my friends Mariyam, Binish Shamim and Mariyam, Binish Shamim and Mahvash Khan, and others, for their help, prayers and support, despite not being here with me.

No great accomplishment is attained without a great team and I had the best cohorts and seniors through this adventure. I convey my acknowledgement to Dr Ataurrahman Farooqui, Dr Hira Anwar, Dr Suhalia Parveen, and a very special thanks to Dr Mohd. Sadiq for his immense support, invaluable affection and brotherly advises. I am also very thankful to – Dr. Nayyer Rahman, Mohd. Wasif, Sujood Khan, Dr. Almas Sultana, Dr. Shaista Sami, Dr. Nikita Kumari, Nikhat Fatima, Arisha Siddiqui, Ayesha Siddiqui, Zeba Ansari, Ayesha Ahmad, Khushbu Chaturvedi and Urooj Fatima - for their unconditional love, support and suggestions.

At this moment of accomplishment, my father, Late, Muhammad Muzaffar deserves a very special homage. His unflinching courage and conviction will always inspire me and. I hope to continue to work with his noble thoughts. I can only say a proper thanks to him through my future work. It is to him that I dedicate this work. I would like to express profound gratitude from my deep heart to my beloved mother, Anwari Khatoon. She has been a constant source of strength, guidance and inspiration. I can honestly say that it was her constant prayers that ultimately made it possible for me to see this thesis through to the end. I am also thankful to my loving siblings - Shahla Muzaffar, Abu Shahma, Abu Asim and Abu Yasir and brother in-law Dr. Shahid Kamal - for their continuous and unparalleled love, help, support, and prayers. I also would like to thank my niece Mayera Shahid for the laughter gifted to me.

At last, reaching major milestones in one’s life does not happen without the assistance of a great many people, and for each one of them I am truly blessed and grateful. Moreover, I express my thanks to all those who directly or indirectly helped me in this academic endeavour. I also apologize for any lacuna of scholarly indebtedness, all of which are quite unintended but completely mine.

Bushra Muzaffar
Department of Commerce
Aligarh Muslim University
2016