ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my Research Supervisor Dr. R. Nageswara Rao, Deputy Director, Analytical Chemistry Division, Indian Institute of Chemical Technology (IICT), Hyderabad, for his invaluable guidance, inspiring advice and constant encouragement throughout the work.

It gives me great pleasure in acknowledging my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. J. S. Yadav, Director, Dr. A. C. Kunwar, Head of Analytical Chemistry Division and Dr. M. Vairamani, ex-Head of Analytical Chemistry Division for having given me this opportunity and support to carry out my research work.

I am grateful to Prof. Hima Bindu, Department of Environmental Science, JNTU, for her guidance and unconditional advice on matters related to the administration of JNTU in submitting my thesis.

I want to thank specially, D. Venkateswarlu, research scholar, for his help in teaching me the intricacies of experiments so that I will not have the pressure of repeating the experiment and making mistakes hence I could complete the work.

When it comes to writing of my thesis, I sincerely thank Mr. Dhananjay Shinde, Pawan Kumar Maurya, Ramchandra, Arun Reddy for their dedicated help in completing the typographical work i.e., arrangement of figures, tables, graphs, etc. With their support my thesis would not have taken the present form.

I will be doing injustice if I do not thank Mr. R. Narsimha, NCMS group, IICT for all the help he rendered for analyzing my samples by Mass-Spectrometer.

I am thankful to my colleagues and research scholars of our group, Mrs. Gousia, Dr. Nagaraju, Dr. A. Narsaraju, Mr. Narendra, Ms. Sandhya, Rama Krishna, Satyanarayana, Mastan Vali, Govind Saane, K. Nagesh Kumar, G. Naidu, Guruprasad for their support in completing the present work.

I also wish to express my thanks to friends, Prof. Ranganathan, Dr. Gousia, Dr. Shyamala and Prof. Meena, Madhurai, who helped me always for keeping the atmosphere cheerful and pleasant.
I would also like to acknowledge here the consistent and unqualified affection and encouragement – I was fortunate enough to receive all through during my professional and academic career from Dr. A V Rama Rao and Dr. Sajid Hussain.

Last but not the least, I am grateful and feel proud of my family – my late parents, my husband, my sister-in-law, my children, my brothers and their families, who were always a source of strength and supported me morally and emotionally in my academic career.

SARA KHALID
Dedicated to the Loving Memory of my Mother