ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I thank the God Almighty for all the blessings showered upon me for the successful completion of this work.

I have boundless pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervising guide, Dr. N. Ramani, Professor, Division of Acarology, Department of Zoology, University of Calicut, for suggesting me this research topic entitled “Studies on the oribatid mites (Acari: Oribatei) associated with mangrove ecosystems of North Kerala”. I am grateful to her for giving me a chance to look into the greenery of mangroves with oribatid mites. I am deeply indebted to her for the constant trust, and gentle prodding, and for giving me intellectual freedom in my work, and supporting my participation in various conferences, inculcating new ideas, and demanding a high quality of work in all my endeavors.

Being founder of the Acarology Division, I am very much grateful to Dr. M. A. Haq, Professor (Rtd.), Division of Acarology, Department of Zoology, University of Calicut for his support and inspiring suggestions, for the completion of this thesis.

It is my privilege to express my thanks to the former Heads of the Department viz. Prof. M. Gokuldas, Dr. N. Ramani, Dr. K.V. Lazar, Dr.V.M. Kannan and the present Head of the Department Dr. M. Nasser, for providing me the necessary facilities for the work.
