Acknowledgements

I do not have enough words to express my gratitude to my supervisor Prof. CSR Murthy. This thesis could not have been completed without his careful supervision, inexhaustible patience and unfailing guidance. At every stage of this work he was a constant source of inspiration. I am greatly indebted to him for encouraging me to develop research aptitude, skills and quest for knowledge. He was always available whenever I had problems or doubts. His critical comments and suggestions were of immense help to me. I consider myself fortunate to have him as my supervisor.

I also wish to express my heartfelt thanks to Prof. Varun Sahni, Chairperson, CIPOD for extending every kind of help and for encouraging me in pursuing my research work.

I am equally thankful to other faculty members and staff of the Centre for their cooperation and encouragement in the course of this study.

I am thankful to University Grants Commission for providing me JRF/SRF which greatly helped me in meeting my research expenses.

I also offer my thanks to Librarians and staff of JNU Library, UN Information Centre, Indian Society of International Law, Institute for Defence Studies and Analyses, American Center Library and British Council Library for providing me valuable research material.

I am grateful to my parents who always had to bear my absence in home. Without their blessings this study could not have reached fruition. I also wish to acknowledge love and affection which I received from my brothers, brother-in-law, sister and sisters-in-law.

Although writing a Ph.D thesis is an exercise in solitude, friends are always of great help in providing moral support and encouragement. In particular I wish to thank VK Singh, Haresh, Nand Lal, Aditya, Ravi, Sanjay, Prashant, Amrendra, Narendra, Indrajeet, Alok, Ayung, Nagong, Vikas, Udaiveer, Joy, Kapil, Rajesh and Vivek.

(Chandra Jeet)