ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research would not have been seen light of the day without the inexhaustible patience, constant encouragement, able and scholarly guidance and personal interest of my Supervisor, Dr. Man Mohini Kaul. I express my deep sense of gratitude to her for channelising my potentials in the right directions. In particular, her last minute cooperation has become the part of my memory to be deeply appreciated for the years to come.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. G. N. Jha for providing intellectual stimulation. I must express my gratitude to Prof. M.P. lama for his direct and indirect instructions during the course of study.

I have been benefited by several foreign scholars such as Prof. W. G. Huff of University of Glasgow, Prof. Michael J. Montesano, Prof. Teofilio C. Daquila and Prof. Peter Wilson of National University of Singapore. Their material assistance is gratefully acknowledged. They also helped me in clarifying my ideas on the subject.

It is my sincere duty to thank the staff of the libraries of JNU, IDSA and Singapore High Commission, World Bank, CII, FICCI and RJS for providing me research material assistance.

I have received tremendous support from my friends in the Second Floor of Tapti Hostel (East Wing). In particular, I am grateful to my friend, and former roommate Vivek Mohan Dubey, who always provided constant support, intellectual direction and critical eye during my stay in Tapti Hostel. His vast knowledge, research experience and critical aptitude were of immense help for my research. His brotherly attitude allowed me to feel at home. Moreover, he always kept me on track, without which deviance would be the norm of my life.

It gave me immense pleasure to remember the friendship of Pradip, Hafeez, Hafeezurraman, Nilu, Ayaz, Sanjay, Anil ji, Sandeepani, Ajit, Sigamani, Ujjarwal Kavidas, Rajneesh, Abhishek Om Prakash Dahiya and Amit Singh. I am thankful to my senior Pankaj Jha, and Vibhanshu Shekhar for their cooperation and guidance.

My special thanks to my friends Mr. Mahesh Debta and Dharmendra for their unfailing patience and support at last moment, which not only gave me strength but also enriched me with moral support.

My deep gratitude to my parents as well as in-laws, siblings (Baby, Guddu, and Gudiya) always stood by me in hard days I underwent in the course of my life. It is difficult for me to survive without their constant inspiration, endless love and tremendous faith in my potentials.

Shashi, my wife, remains a stable pillar of my strength. Her unconditional love proved my biggest asset in the competitive world and it is not the only debt I owe to her. Also my feelings of love for her, given me strength and sense of duty to complete this work.

Lastly, I would like to thanks all the people those names not mentioned here but directly and indirectly generated interest of pursuing higher studies.
