ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very onset, I thank God, the Almighty for having given me the opportunity to pursue Ph.D in Psychology in this esteem university. His ceaseless and sincere effort in nurturing me is beyond my expression. I owe my heartfelt gratitude to my guide Dr Mala Chaliha Talukdar. Ph.D Research Guide, Gauhati University, for her valuable suggestion, motivation and patient guidance.

With profound sense of devotion and indebtedness, I wish to express my appreciation and gratitude to ICSSR, New Delhi for helping me to pursue Ph.D in Psychology as a fellow of ICSSR with financial assistance.

I would also like to thank Late Dr Nimai Charan Das, Psychology Department, Gauhati University who was more like a father figure to me. My research would have been incomplete without his guidance. His valuable words have encouraged me to work in a systematic way to reach the goal.

I would like to express my great appreciation to Dr Rita Rani Talukdar, HOD, Department of Psychology and Dr. Indranee Phookan Baruah, Ex HOD, Department of Psychology, Gauhati University and all other teaching faculties of the Department of Psychology for the willingness to give time so generously and valuable support has been very much appreciated.
I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the non teaching staff of the Department of Psychology, Gauhati University, Guwahati for their help rendered for the completion of this study.

I wish to thank and remember with gratitude to the School Authorities, Head of the Institution, Teachers and Students in various CBSE Schools, Kamrup Districts (Kamrup Rural and Kamrup Metro) who have helped me in data collection and for their active co-operation without which this research would not have been possible.

I am also thankful to Mr. Rustom Ali, Omeo Kumar Das Institute of Social Change for assisting me with the statistical analysis of my research data.

In presenting the research work in the form of a thesis, I am thankful to many people, although it might not be possible to mention the name of each and every person here, still I would like to mention the name of some special people whose co-operation helped me a lot:

- Tamal Kumar Guha, Assistant Librarian of IIT, Guwahati.
- Dr. B. Sutradhar, Librarian of Central Library IIT, Kharagpur.
- Librarian, Calcutta University, Kolkata.
- Librarian, Central Library, Kolkata.
I am greatly thankful to my parents, Bimalendu Das and Sipra Das without whose support and blessings it would have been incomplete. I am also thankful to my brother, Sivasantu Das who at times helped me out with novel ideas for research work. At the most, I would extend my gratitude to my mother-in-law Anjushri Sur for keeping me in her prayers everyday for successful completion of my research work.

With great opportunity, I would like to thank my husband, Partha Pratim Roy for his encouragement and valuable support towards my work. He helped me in compiling up the entire thesis on the computer and boosted me whenever I felt low. Lastly I am thankful to my daughter, Moutushi Roy for bearing up with me and staying away from whenever I was engrossed with my work.

I express my sincere gratitude to all others who helped me directly and indirectly in the successful completion of this research work.
