I am deeply indebted to my advisor, Dr. H. S. Ramane, Professor, Dept. of Mathematics, Karnataka University Dharwad, for his guidance and encouragement during my study at Karnataka University Dharwad. It is he who attracted me to pursue my Ph.D. study at Karnataka University in the first place. With his passion and vision for scientific research, my guide sets a role model for his students, which we can hardly emulate. During our numerous research discussions and frequent contact, he keeps inspiring me both as an experienced mathematician and a good friend.
