ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost I thank ALMIGHTY GOD in the most special way for guiding, helping and strengthening me throughout this endeavour.

I wish to acknowledge my heart felt thanks to my supervising teacher, Dr. G. MURALEEDHARA KURUP, Professor and Director, School of Biosciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, for his valuable help and guidance, which can never be repaid. I am much obliged to him for sparing his valuable time and for the encouragement and the motivation throughout the study, without which this work would have been incomplete.

Earnestly and sincerely, I express my appreciation to Dr. Shankar Shashidar, former Director, School of Biosciences, Mahatma Gandhi University who provided all facilities and inspiration for the study.

I wish to express my gratitude to Dr. Radhakrishna Pillai, Director, Rajiv Gandhi Centre for Biotechnology, Thiruvananthapuram for giving me special training and lab facilities at the center in order to evaluate the anticancerous property of the cyanobacterial drug. I am also indebted to Dr. T.R Santhosh Kumar, Scientist, RGCB, Thiruvananthapuram for permitting me to carry out my experiments in his lab.

I gratefully acknowledged Dr. Sudhakaran, Professor and head of the department of Biochemistry, University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram, for giving me special training in liver perfusion technique for the present study and also for providing me all facilities to use their laboratory, library and internet facilities.

I express my gratitude to Dr. Ramesh, Senior Statistician, Rubber Research Institute, Kottayam and Dr. Joy, St. Thomas College, Pala for their valuable statistical assistance during the analysis of the data.
I am indebted to Dr. K. K. Janardhanan and Dr. Ramadasan Kuttan, Professors of Biochemistry, Amala Cancer Centre, Trichur for their timely help and guidance during the study.

I am immensely thankful to Dr. Stephen Joseph, Newman College, Thodupuzha for his valuable suggestions and motivation at various stages of my works.

I would like to extend my heart-felt gratitude to Dr. Dave Adams, Faculty of Biological Science, University of Leeds, U. K for all necessary guidance given to me.

I owe my thanks to Mr. Varghese M.C and Ms. Drishya Raghuvaran Lectures in Botany, Deva Matha College, Kuravilangadu for taking histopathological photographs.
