

in the subconscious of an individual unknowingly guides him to become a kind of individual, as he matures and becomes an adult. How certain latent feelings of the characters can be discerned by delving deep into his childhood to have a better understanding of his present attitude and views towards life. It will also be shown how a person's nature as well as nurture (the kind of environment which he gets in childhood to develop himself) will determine the type of individual he will blossom into.

Children after all are the future pillars of the society, and a proper care of these children is indeed a duty of parents, society and educationalists collectively. This duty can be smoothly executed if we have an insight into the role of Nature Vs Nurture. So, the present study will be of much use for all.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would first of all like to express my thanks and gratitude to my supervisor Dr. (Mrs.) Philomina Zacharia, who inspired me to work on this topic considering my interest in both Psychology and English Literature. I am grateful to her for her guidance, support constant encouragement and patience, in reviewing my thesis progress. I am also indebted to her for her valuable suggestions and corrections. I would also like to express my special thanks to her for being a stimulating source throughout my work, filling in me the confidence and much desired motivation to complete this work.

I would also like to express my special thanks to my maternal uncle Dr. R.N. Shukla, Ex-convener, B.O.S. in English C.S.J.M. University for giving me the guidelines and enabling me to get adapted to the changed methodology of research work.

I would also like to express my immense gratitude to Mr. K.K. Bajpai, for dealing with the most important aspect of thesis i.e., typing it and giving it a presentable form.

I feel fortunate to acknowledge the support of some special individuals. Words fail me to express my appreciation and thanks to my maternal grandfather Late Shri D.C. Nigam and my maternal uncle Shri J.N. Nigam, for instilling in me the confidence and the passion for English as the subject. Without their support, encouragement and faith in my abilities, probably I would never have been in the position to complete the given thesis.

Next I would like to pay high regards and heartfelt thanks to my mother Dr. Sheel Nigam (Ex. Dean Faculty of Arts, C.S.J.M. University, Kanpur) who has throughout acted as a great inspirational and motivational source, through her words and has incredibly helped me in the completion of my thesis. I am extremely thankful to her for her sincere encouragement and inspiration throughout my research work and lifting me uphill this phase of life. I owe everything to her.

I would also like to extend, huge, warm thanks especially to my mother-in-law Mrs. Suman Saxena and my father-in-law Dr. R.K. Saxena, (Ex. Dean Faculty of Science, C.S.J.M. University, Kanpur) for providing me with each and every assistance in the completion of the work.

I would also like to thank my daughter Devyani Saksena, for patiently bearing with me, whenever I was busy in my research work. She indeed is a great source of inspiration to me in all my endeavours.

I would also like to acknowledge my gratitude to my husband captain Amit Kumar Saksena, for always motivating me and pushing me to complete the thesis.

Last, but not the least, I would like to thank, the omnipresent God, for giving me the strength to plod on despite my constitution to give up, thank you so much Dear Lord.
