ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

During my research work, I have received a lot of encouragement, suggestions and assistance from various sources. I would like to place on record my gratitude to each one of them.

First and foremost I thank God Almighty for guiding me and protecting me throughout my research endeavor. It was only His blessings that enabled me to get assistance from such diverse quarters at the right time and facilitated smooth sailing through what everyone warned me was unchartered and turbulent waters.

It is difficult to express in words my sincere gratitude to my supervising teacher Dr. N. Ajith Kumar. His suggestions, sound advice and supervision at all stages of my work helped in successful completion of this research work. It has been a memorable experience working with him and I deeply appreciate the effective time management that I imbibed from him. I also take this opportunity to thank his entire family for the support and wholehearted encouragement extended to me during the research period.

I am highly indebted to Dr. K.K. Subrahmanian, Honorary Fellow, Centre for Development Studies who directed me into this particular area of research and offered guidance all throughout. I share a very personal relationship with him from the days of my M.Phil course done under his guidance.

I also express my gratitude to Dr. Mridul Eapen, Member, Kerala State Planning Board and Dr. K.J. Joseph, Dr. Vinoj Abraham, Dr. P.L. Beena and Dr. J. Devika—faculty members, Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum for their suggestions and comments which helped me to crystallize my ideas on the issues researched.

I am sincerely thankful to Dr. T. M. Jacob, Reader in Statistics, Nirmala College, Muvattupuzha; Dr. K. Navaneetham and Dr. N. Vijayamohan Pillai, faculty members, Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum; and Dr. Jose M.C., S.B College, Changanassery for clarifying my doubts on the statistical techniques used in my research work.

Words are inadequate to express my gratitude to Mr. Rajeev Vasudevan, former Chief Executive Officer of Technopark for the numerous discussion sessions and support extended in the initial stages of research. I would also like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Mr. K. Ramesh Kumar, Director, Software Technology Park of India, Thiruvananthapuram; Mr. Nishant Kumar, Manager-Business Development, Infopark; Mr. V.J. Jayakumar, former Chief Executive Officer of Technopark; Mr. Ramesh C. Dutt, Expert Consultant and Advisor, Technopark; Mrs. Gita Gopalakrishnan, Marketing and legal Officer Technopark; Mr. Joseph C. Mathew, Former Advisor to IT Department, Government of Kerala; Mr. C. Mathew, Development Commissioner, Cochin Special Economic Zone; Mr. Joseph Alexander, Project Officer, National Technical Manpower Information System, Nodal Centre for Kerala, CUSAT, Kochi and Wg Cdr K. Chandrasekhar, Executive Director, TiE Kerala; for all the help rendered and information furnished for the study. A special word of gratitude to Mr. Amarnath Raja, Chief Executive Officer of INAPP Information Technologies and his Human Resource Manager Mrs Maya Nair for their active help in gaining access to H.R managers of various companies. It was the co-operation and assistance rendered by all the above mentioned people which helped me do justice to my work.

I sincerely thank the library staff at Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum, especially Mr Anil Kumar for guiding me through the labyrinth of information and data sources at the centre. A special word of thanks to Dr Mrs. M.D. Baby, former librarian and Mrs Susan Mathew, assistant librarian, CUSAT, Cochin as well as my friends Dr Pyarelal Raghavan, Senior Editor, Financial Express; Dr S.K. Shashi Kumar, Senior Fellow, V.V. Giri National Labour Institute, Noida; Dr Sananda Kumar, Special Correspondent, The Economic Times, Cochin and Dr Ravi Raman, Hallsworth Research Fellow, Manchester for all the help rendered in accessing relevant research material for the study.

I also thank the principal Rev. Fr. Saviance, office staff, the librarian Mr. Kuriakose and all staff of the Department of Economics, Sacred Heart College, for all their support during my tenure as a research scholar in the Department.

I am grateful to the management of St. Teresa’s College, my former principal Rev. Sr. Tessa, present Principal Rev Sr Christabelle and the University Grants Commission for permitting me to avail of the Teacher Fellowship under the Faculty Improvement Program which enabled me to pursue my research work. I also thank all my colleagues in the Department of Economics and all office staff of St. Teresa’s College for all their encouragement and assistance extended.

I also take this opportunity to express my gratitude to my friend Dr Cherian.P.E, Lecturer, Department of Economics, Sacred Heart College, Thevara and Dr Claramma Thomas, Head of the Department of Sociology, St. Teresa’s college who have been real pillars of support during these years.

A special word of gratitude to all those IT professionals in Kerala and HR Managers of IT Firms each of whom spent some of their precious free time with me and patiently answered my queries. It was their co-operation which made this study a reality. In this connection, I also acknowledge with gratitude the help rendered by Mr K.Muraleedharan of Centre for Development Studies and his nephew Kannan Babu who accompanied me during my survey in Trivandrum.

My thanks also to Mrs Sujatha Ramakrishnan and Mrs Latha Mohan for help extended in typing the thesis and to Indu Photos for prompt and neat execution of the computer work.

Finally I thank my sister Dr Lakshmi Padmanabhan and my friends Mrs Usha Ramesh and Mrs. Uma Sathish for all their help in proof-reading the thesis and my parents, my husband Radhakrishnan and my children Keshav and Madhav for bearing with my frequent absences from home during the course of my research.

Nirmala Padmnabhan