List of Tables and Figures

Tables

Table 1: A comparison of counselling component in three surrogacy programmes ..........36
Table 2: Stages of surrogacy and corresponding contexts...........................................69
Table 3: Emerged sampling distribution.....................................................................70
Table 4: Data collection and recording methods ..........................................................71
Table 5: Nationality of the commissioning parents .....................................................115
Table 6: Positive surrogacy experience by nationality of the commissioning parents ....180
Table 7: Enabling conditions for satisfactory relationship with commissioning parents 181
Table 8: Justifications surrogate mothers provided to assert maternal identity ..........201
Table A1: ART/surrogacy visas issued to foreign nationals by India 2010-14 ..........310

Figures

Figure 1. An exponential rise in the number of ART clinics in India. ..........................10
Figure 2. ART/surrogacy visas issued by India during 2010 – 2014. ..........................13
Figure 3. HDI groups and ART/surrogacy visas issued by India 2010-14. .................14
Figure 4. A summary of concerns regarding practice of ART and surrogacy. ..........16
Figure 5. A predictive model of the customs complex of agency of the Indian self ....52
Figure 6. The conceptual framework for the study. ......................................................54
Figure 7. Process of gaining access. ...........................................................................62
Figure 8. Continuum of participant role in ethnographic research............................65
Figure 9. Sampling parameters...................................................................................68
Figure 10. Fieldwork details.....................................................................................73
Figure 11. Steps used in thematic analysis.................................................................77
Figure 12. Development of a thematic map. .................................................................79
Figure 13. Demographic, reproductive and economic profile of the women. ................................. 86
Figure 14. Social profile of the women and their spouses. ............................................................... 87
Figure 15. Geographical spread of women by their place of residence. ........................................ 89
Figure 16. Word frequency chart for motivations to participate in surrogacy. .......................... 99
Figure 17. Surrogacy process in the pre-pregnancy phase. ......................................................... 106
Figure 18. Women’s recall of contents of the counselling session. ............................................. 107
Figure 19. Status of surrogate mothers’ contact with commissioning parents. ....................... 116
Figure 20. Surrogacy process post confirmation of the pregnancy. ............................................. 122
Figure 21. Surrogacy process post-delivery. ............................................................................... 128
Figure 22. Contexts and actors mediating experiences of the women. ..................................... 132
Figure 23. The number of embryo transfer attempts women underwent. .............................. 154
Figure 24. Quality of women’s relationship with their commissioning parents .................. 165
Figure 25. Surrogacy perceived as a personal relation. .............................................................. 176
Figure 26. Facilitators during surrogacy. ..................................................................................... 178
Figure 27. A word frequency chart describing care work during surrogacy. .......................... 192
Figure 28. The ideal surrogate role ............................................................................................. 198
Figure 29. Management of the surrogacy enterprise. ................................................................. 200
Figure 30. Role of women in the decision-making to participate in surrogacy. ..................... 211
Figure 31. Reasons for spousal resistance for participation in surrogacy. ............................. 212
Figure 32. Complexities in the decision to participate in surrogacy. ...................................... 221
Figure 33. Contexts in which women exercised agency. ............................................................ 227
Figure 34. Definitions of women’s agency practices in the context of surrogacy .................... 228
Figure 35. Preferences for selective disclosure of surrogacy endeavour. ............................ 231
Figure 36. Manifestation of assertion in the context of surrogacy. .......................................... 236
Figure 37. Use of assertion by a surrogate mother in the clinical setting. .............................. 239
Figure 38. Themes women used for negotiations to participate in surrogacy.........240

Figure 39. Use of agency practices by women based on the type of decision making to participate in surrogacy.............................................................................................................245

Figure 40. Comparative use of agency practices amongst two groups of women. .......247

Figure 41. A custom’s complex of women’s agency in the context of surrogacy. .......250

Figure 42. Positive impact of surrogacy on the lives of women. ............................................256

Figure 43. Future plans of women post surrogacy. ................................................................260

Figure 44. Proposed phases of counselling in surrogacy. .................................................275