ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I sincerely wish to express my gratitude to the following:

Dr. C.A. Antony, my supervisor for his supervision, generous advice, assistance and suggestions during the course of this work.

The Government of Kerala for granting me study leave and permission to carry out this work.

Mr. C.S. Yalakki, Chief Conservator of Forest, (Protection) and Mr. Trivedi Babu, Former CCF (Protection) my Colleagues in Kerala Forest Department for permitting me to access many records of the Department for analyzing the cases included in the study

Dr. B. Sivaraju and Dr. N. Gopinathan, Chief Conservators of Forests, who gave me insights into the research problem

Officers and Staff of the Kerala Forest Department who accompanied me in my field visits to food production areas, tribal colonies and many NRF areas and helped me in the collection of primary data.

The respondents of the cases from whom the case histories were collected.

The villagers and elders of Valayanchirangara, Kottappady villages in the Ernakulam District, who cooperated with me in group interviews. Mr. P.K Gopalan Nair and Mr. V.S. Kesavan Nair of Valayanchirangara for their pleasing co operation in personal interviews.

Dr. Varghese John, the Principal and Dr. Raju K John the former Principal of the Union Christian College Aluva for extending all facilities for my research.

The Heads of Institutions, Librarians and Staff of Centre for Policy Studies, New Delhi, Centre for Development Studies Thiruvananthapuram, Indian Institute of Public Administration, New Delhi, Kerala Forest Research Institute, Peechi, Institute of Management in Government, Thiruvananthapuram and Kerala Forest Department, Thiruvananthapuram for their help and hospitality.

contd, ....
Mr. T.M. Manoharan, PCCF, Kerala, Mr. Balachandran Thampi IG of Forest and Mr. A.K. Goyal, Jt, Secretary, Ministry of Environment and Forest, New Delhi, for granting me permission for perusing various policy documents of the Government.

The Secretary and Staff, Kerala Legislative Assembly, Thiruvananthapuram for granting me permission to peruse Assembly Proceedings of various policy instruments.

Prof. Alan Rew and Dr. David Mosse, Centre for Development Studies, Swansea, United Kingdom for initiating thoughts in forest policy analysis.

Dr. Sunny Kuriakose, Department of Mathematics, U.C. College, Aluva and family for their assistance in varied ways and

Kunjumole, my wife and Panchu and Gulu my sons for their constant encouragements

December 26, 2008

K.P. Ouseph

Thiruvananthapuram