LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 2.1 Process of Digital Storytelling.................................................................23
Figure 2.2 Creating Meaning and Emotional Movement........................................31
Figure 2.3 Story Development Process.................................................................32
Figure 2.5 Movement Oriented Design.................................................................34
Figure 3.1: Engestroms’ activity system applied to a digital storytelling activity........76
Figure 3.2: The TPACK model..............................................................................83
Figure 3.3: A modified TPACK model to embrace students’ reflections ................84
Figure 3.4: Digital storytelling instruction framework..........................................90
Figure 4.1, storyboard, created by one of the students in this study.....................97