ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present research work for the award of Doctor of Philosophy degree in Social Work is a saga of enriching experiences which came with combating hurdles, maintaining hard work, dedication and perseverance. This work of thesis would not have been completed without the help and support of a number of people.

I have no words to express my gratitude to God who bestowed me with tremendous strength confidence to complete this exemplary work. Without His benevolence I would have achieved nothing. I beseech for his blessings and magnanimity.

I owe for what I am and all that I am capable of to my parents Sri R.S. Rathore and Smt. Sudha Rathore. I cannot thank them but I can only remember the care, concern and the love and affection of theirs and hope that I remain beneficiary of such love throughout my life. It serves as wind beneath my wings which makes me soar higher and higher.

In the same breath I would like to appreciate the everlastig support of my father-in-law (Sri D.R. Verma) and mother-in-law (Late Smt. Kailash Devi) for having cooperated with me in my taking such a cumbersome task. I am privileged to have their love and concern for me.

I do not have hesitation in saying that this work would not have come up without the valuable support and continuous encouragement of my husband Dr Ajai Kumar Verma, my brother Mr. Amit Kumar Singh, Bhabhi Mrs. Deepali Rathore. Their great confidence in me and unparalleled ways of help from time to time lifted my sinking morale and spurred me into action.

My special regard goes to my respected Supervisor, Dr. Vinod Kr. Pandey, Asst. Professor, Department of Social Work Teerthankaer Mahaveer University Moradabad, for their generous help, kind encouragement and guidance in completion of this research work.
I also express my heartiest thanks to Dr. D. K. Singh, Dr. Anoop Kumar Bhartiya and Dr. Rakesh Dwivedi for their generous help, kind encouragement and guidance in completion of this research work.

Rathore, Sister-in-law Sandhya and my children Shambhavi, Suryansh, Devansh and Daksh all of them not only gave support and useful suggestions but also gave a helping hand in domestic work so that I could focus on my study. I shall always look forward for their moral support and cooperation.

The successful completion of any thesis is the hard work of all those people who have supported, helped, put their great efforts. I will take this opportunity to express my humble thanks to all the intellectual teachers and staff members of the department of Social Work for their help and guidance in whatever matter I needed.
