Contents

Chapter – I: Research Methodology and Tools of Research. 01-27
1.1 Determination of research problem.
1.2 Review of literature and research work already done.
1.3 Aims and objectives of the study.
1.4 Determination of research design.
1.5 Collection of primary and secondary data.
1.6 Use of statistical tools and devices.
1.7 Analysis, interpretation and report writing.

Chapter – II: Organisation Issues. 28-57
2.1 Evolution of Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited.
2.2 Organizational and managerial profiles.
2.3 Product profile of Ranbaxy.
2.4 Present position of Ranbaxy.
2.5 Diversification, acquisitions, mergers and globalisation programmes.
2.6 R&D activities and total quality management programmes of the company.

Chapter – III: Organizational Change and Relevant Issues. 58-108
3.1 Definitions of organisation change and related concepts.
3.2 Objectives and importance of planned change.
3.3 The dilemma of change.
3.4 Pressures for change and change process.
3.5 Resistance to change.
3.6 Management of change – an overview.
3.7 Strategic models of OC.

4.1 Concept of organisation development.
4.2 Growth v/s development.
4.3 Objectives and process of OD.
4.4 OD intervention.
4.5 Empirical support and assessment.
4.6 OD work in India.

Chapter – V: An Appraisal of Organizational Change and Development Programmes of Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited. 133-163

5.1 Resistance to organizational change in Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited.
5.2 Managing change at Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited.
5.3 Action research – A model of OD at Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited.
5.4 Team building at Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited.
5.5 Management development process and training at Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited.
5.6 OD in action – At Ranbaxy Laboratories Limited.

Chapter – VI: Summing up. 164-182

6.1 Abstract of the study.
6.2 Findings and their analysis.
6.3 Suggestions and recommendations.
6.4 Contingent issues.

Bibliography: 183-186