Acknowledgement
Like everyone I too have heard of adventure but I never knew that I myself would experience until I met Dr. N. Vinayakam, M.Com., Ph.D., my guide and the Organiser of academic expeditions at the portals of the Department of Commerce, P.G.Extension Centre, Salem-11.

The exploratory imagination of my mentor directed me to the possible area and assisted me in all ways to excavate the reality of subject matter. And in the attempt whenever I sank into the world of uncertainty and doubt, his committed interest and infectious enthusiasm cheered me for which, I am sincerely thankful and grateful.

I owe my allegiance to Thiru J.K.K. Nataraja, F.I.C.A., our respectful Correspondent and Mrs. S. Andal, M.Sc., M.Phil., Principal In-charge for having permitted me to under go the M.Phil., Degree Course in Commerce on part-time basis at this Centre.

Regarding the instincting services of Bank officials. I am highly indebted to, Sri C. Jeyakumaran, Lead Bank Officer, Canara Bank, Divisional Office, and other officials at different branches. They have furnished me with necessary materials and my gratitude to them is more than conventional.
I also place on record my deep sense of gratitude to the Librarian of Institute of Financial Management and Research, Madras, P.A. Mohanraj, the Librarian of Madras University, Madras, Mr. B. Ramraj, Joint Director of Studies, Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, Madras Office, and host of other officials of Tamil Nadu Government.

I am indebted to my colleagues friends and the members of my family for their help and encouragement for the successful completion of this humble piece of work.
