ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

As I have been fascinated by the subject of Banking even while I was undergoing the study of B.Com., Degree Course and more particularly at the Post-graduate level, I am tempted to choose this area for my present research programme leading to M.Phil. Degree in Commerce of the University of Madras. In view of the swift emerging role of private sector Banks, I felt it is quite relevant to evaluate the Performance Budgeting system as followed by the Private sector Banks for toning up the efficiency and also for ensuring effective control over their branches.

I consider myself more fortunate in pursuing research in the Department of Commerce, Madras University P.G. Extension Centre, Salem and I thank the University of Madras for having given me a golden opportunity for pursuing M.Phil Degree Course at the P.G. Extension Centre, Salem.
I wish to express my sincere gratitude and heartfelt thanks to my guide Dr. N. VINAYAKAM, M.Com., Ph.D., Professor and Head, Department of Commerce, Madras University P.G. Extension Centre, Salem-11, who had spared much of his precious time for discussion in finalising this study. I am extremely thankful to him for his benign kindness, qualities of a mentor which acted as a great fillip to me to pursue the study. It was he who has inspired me to develop the ideas on original lines and guided with his new approach and valuable suggestions which have helped me a lot in completing the thesis in the present form.

My thanks are due to Dr. S. Shanmugasundaram, M.Com., Ph.D., Reader and also other staff in the Department of Commerce, Madras University P.G. Extension Centre, Salem, for their help and encouragement extended to me.

I also thank the top officials of the select five Private Sector Banks, viz., Lakshmi Vilas Bank Ltd., Karur Vysya Bank Ltd., Bank of Madura Ltd., Tamilnad Mercantile Bank Ltd., and City Union Bank Ltd., for having given me the required permission and help in the completion of the study.

I also thank the managers and the staff members of the Planning and Development Department of all the five select banks and a host of other bank officials of nationalised banks too, for having provided me the necessary data and information pertaining to the operational efficiency of the Performance Budgeting System.

My thanks are also due to the officials at the Computer Centre at Salem for their prompt and neat execution of work within a record time.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to my beloved parents, friends and all those who have helped me both directly and indirectly, in the fruition of the present research study.
