

Acknowledgement

Attainment of a target is not possible without the help of our well-wishers and I am lucky to have them in my life. I am privileged to take this opportunity to thank them with my deepest heartfelt feelings.

First, I dedicate this work in the lotus feet of Sri Aurobindo and the Mother whose grace has made possible to achieve this target.

I also want to dedicate this work to my parents who have always encouraged me to set goals to develop higher self.

I want to thank my supervisor Dr. Deepali Sharma (Prof., Maharani Laxmibai Govt. Girls P.G. College, Indore) from the bottom of my heart, first for accepting me as her student and then guiding me through her alert, attentive and intelligent gesture, I will be always thankful to her for her patient guidance throughout the work. Working with her was a true learning experience.

I have no words to thank my brother-in-law Mr. Rakesh Pandya (Ex. General Manager, Reliance Industries Ltd., Vadodara, Faculty of Management Studies, The MS University of Baroda, Vadodara) and my husband's closest friend Dr. Deepak Verma (Professor and Head, Division of SC, ST & OBC Development, BANISS, Mhow). I owe this research work to both of them and words are too short to express their strenuous efforts, outright and unconditional support, suggestions and round the clock help which made this research work possible.

I am indebted to all my respondents, principals and staff of different schools for my survey.

I extend my thanks to my principal Prof. Alka Mukesh for facilitating me to complete my course work and research work.

I am thankful to Dr. (Prof.) Usha Krishnan (Principal) and Prof. Manju Patni (Head of Home Science Dept.) of my research centre and Dr. Kirti Tiwari (Dean Faculty of Home Science) for their support.

I am thankful to my son, Shashwat and his friends Tushar and Swarit for accompanying me everywhere for research work and helping me in computer related work. My sister, Dr. Neeta Pandya and her children for their motivation. I am also thankful to my sisters and brothers in-law for their support. Finally, I acknowledge the patience, encouragement and support extended by my husband Dr. B.K. Thakar.
