Acknowledgements

First of all, I thank Allah, the Almighty, for providing me with the determination and perseverance to complete this thesis.

I owe sincere gratitude to my supervisor Prof. M. Khalid Azam for the constant support during my research work. His patience, vast knowledge and ample motivation have kept me hopeful during my whole research project. His guidance has encouraged me in all the time of research and writing for this project. I could not have imagined having a better supervisor and mentor for my PhD study.

However, there are also other people besides my advisor whom I would also convey my thanks. I am thankful to Prof. Parvaiz Talib, Chairperson, Department of Business Administration, and Dean, Faculty of Management Studies & Research, AMU for providing me indispensable support and providing a munificent atmosphere for study and research.

I would like to thanks, all the faculty members for building a positive and healthy environment for conducting quality research work. I would specifically like to thanks, Prof. Jamal A Farooquie for providing important pieces of advice related to statistical techniques used in the study. I would also like to say thanks, Prof. Valeed Ahmad Ansari who on many occasions has given me important feedbacks on research work specifically during the preliminary survey.

Further, I would like to say thanks to Prof. Kaleem Mohammad Khan who taught the research methodology course during PhD and also to Dr Mohammed Naved Khan who taught the marketing research course during M.B.A. 2011-13. These two courses have helped me in developing the foundational knowledge of research methods and the basic statistical procedure to be applied in different research contexts.

I would also like to convey my gratitude to Dr Mohd Afaq Khan, Dr Asad Rehman, Dr Asif Ali Syed and Dr Asif Akhtar who provided many important suggestions when I was considering taking admission in the PhD course.
Further, I would like to say thanks to all other faculty members of FMSR who directly or indirectly motivated me to complete my project. I would like to mention names: Prof. Javaid Akhter, Prof. Mohammad Israrul Haque, Prof. Salma Ahmed, Prof. Ayesha Farooq, Prof. Bilal Mustafa Khan, Dr Saboohi Nasim, Dr Tariq Aziz and Dr Ahmad Faraz Khan.

Last but not least I would like to thanks to family and friends for constant motivation and support. Among my friends, my special thanks go to Saman Zehra, Asma Khan, Mohammad Sarim Khan, Eisha Khan, Mohd. Yasir Arafat, Farha Naz, Mumtaz Ahmad and Adeeba Ahmad.

Adil Khan