I want to speak English but a lot of problems into speak English because I have no knowledge of Grammar and my word power is also be.

So I want to a course course in Remedial English. Without the knowledge of English I don't success in our life.

English knowledge is very good for all other students. Because today all the competitive exams held in English so I can't understand English question and I give up.
In JNU all students are speaking English very well. I don't talk with him, because his English improvement and word power are very well. When I talk can talking in English I don't succeed because I have no knowledge of articles, and other English grammar. So I want to speak good English. I belong to a small village of Aurangabad district in Bihar. So my background is not so good, because there was no anybody to speak Hindi language. So I lived and I always lived in village. So I also speak Hindi well, but I am not able to speak English very well. English class is very important to me because in JNU all languages spoken and understanding in English. So I cannot understand any language in English. English writing is very hard work. Because when I speak not write, no understand them what I am in JNU. Without any knowledge of English I do not progress. I cannot read paper, novels, and any magazine of English because I have no idea of English. But in our life English is very important and class of knowledge for me. Where I go people speak in English and I cannot understand his language and I feel very boring. Because my more knowledge of studies, because there are a lot of study spoken English very fast currently.

A2:
English is spoken about 40% of the population. We all know that English is very important in our life. I remember when there are competitive exams held in English and I can when I cannot understand English then what I do? I fill all the answer. I give wrong and my numbers cut off.

I want to learn a course in computers but I cannot understand English so I understand very well.

I need a course in Remedial English because English is the second largest speaking language in the world and I am weak in English. I can't speak English fluently and I am not able to make simple sentences. I can't express my views in English. I am doing B.A. (Hons.) in Chinese Chinese and now I am in 2nd year and from third year we will do translation. Since my English is poor, so could not be able to do that course.
In Chinese department there are two teachers who are from China. They don't know Hindi at all, so I can't explain my difficulties to them. So, please help me and consider my application.

Since my vocabulary is too short, so I can't write in 400 words.

One difficulty is that it is hard to speak English, and it is also hard to understand what is written in English. The problem is not the language itself, but the fact that many students have not had the opportunity to learn it in a proper way. In a language like English, you have to learn the grammar and the vocabulary, and then you have to practice speaking and writing. This is not easy, and it takes a lot of time and effort. But if you want to learn English, you have to do it. It is not easy, but it is important for your future.
If your background is English, your father and mother speak English. This is no problem to speak. My mother tongue is not English. English is my problem. Thus I don't speak fluent with others. The course named "Remedial English" is initially answered by the question: "What do I need?". It means that I need to remedy the errors or faults of my English. English is a European language, which has been neglected only in this sense that this is the language of Britishers, the people who made our country dependent. But after coming to know I felt that what is the position of English in our society, it has become the mother tongue of Indians.

I am poorest at English. I don't have any knowledge about the written & spoken system of English. I don't know grammar.
My English teacher used to ask me to learn the language by heart. But I never paid attention toward English. Now the condition is that I am facing so many problems in every walk of life. Truly speaking I am not in such condition that I can express my views clearly. So please help me. I wish that you will consider over my condition.

And I am from Lucknow. I studied in my primary and secondary school in Hindi as a regional language. I studied in senior secondary school in English as a subject. So, I have little knowledge of English language and English literature. But I am facing problem in speaking English and sometimes in understanding. My parents' background is also not from English. I did not study in any convent school. In my graduation, the teaching language was Hindi. In the course of M.C.A., I need to speak English fluently as well as to write. Because we have to do all works on Computer in English. To do this work, I have to have sound knowledge of English. So I am facing problem in my studies especially at the time of work on Computer. So I need English course. Without it, I cannot do better in my studies.

When I write something, I do many grammatical mistakes which makes my impression on teacher poor. I know Hindi well because in Lucknow Hindi is the regional language and the communicative language is also Hindi. After passing many years in that surrounding, I am not much able to speak and write in English. That's all. I need course in remedial English.
I need a Course in Remedial English because my English is very weak. Also I finished my Bachelor in my language [Arabic Language] there for this semester is the first semester in English for me.

I get my Bachelor from Baghdad University [IRAQ] where I from Republic of YEMEN.

Our mother language is Arabic Language but in our studies every things in our language exist some simple or some scientific words.
I came to INDIA because I get scholarship from government of India under Indian Cultural Change Relation. this program between YEMEN and India for Cultural Relation Chape.

I just before coming to India get scholar chape also from Jordan, but I prefer India, because I like India from long time. also the peaple of India is very nice and very nice friend chape.

My subject or my field does not need to very deep studying in English but we need to English Language to explain some scientific words also when the Professor explain to us I could not understand him very good.

I phrasing this problem every classes.

Also when I want to read any books I could not understand it easily. It's very difficult for me.

Addition to that when I want to spoke with the others I could not form a correct sentences.

Otherwise if I could not learn English language exactly, I will go back to my Country at that time I will be unhappy.
Therefore please help me to solve this problem which I phaze it every time.

Also I have another problem if you can help me in this problem I will be thankful very much for you which the other problem is that I have everyday lab afternoon [8:30 - 5] P.m except wednesday if you help me to make the classes of among English at 4:30 as possible please I pray you to mark the course of English at that time [4:30 P.m]

In our class, we discuss various seminars, presentations, etc. It is essential for us to learn the English language, as it will also improve our personalities. Today, a lot of MNCs require employees to have excellent English skills. So their requirement will be that their employees are at least ten years of experience in the field. Now, they recruit the professionals through written tests, so it is necessary to prepare well for them. We must also improve our spoken English to participate in any professional or written test.

As the market is very competitive, everyone is using different methods to sell their products. One of the methods is personal interaction, which is something marketing; you have to convince your customer by your way of talking. You should be able to convince your customer in English, your style of speaking, your command in English, your body language, etc. It is very essential in this type of conversation.

As a student of MCA, my dream is to join the service. Course in English is great, but it will be very difficult. The course in English is great, and it will be very difficult. I am not able to communicate better in English. As soon as I graduate, I will be very grateful. I am the one of the best students. I will be very grateful.

Chosen for something, I am finding every year to develop my personality well. I find every year to develop my personality well.

English is a global language. English is the language which is spoken in a maximum number of countries. In India, English acts the role of communication language between Hindi spoken region and non-Hindi spoken belts. Knowing English helps us also in understanding cultures of other countries. A person who knows English finds him at ease when he goes to places where Hindi is not spoken because in any part of world, there are a sufficient large number of people who can speak and understand English.

A good knowledge of English is essential for me because I am doing M.C.A. course. Almost all books for this course which are available in Market, are written in English. Softwares used in Computers are close to
As I am an M.C.A. Student, after completion of course, it may happen that I will have to go to that region of country where Hindi is not spoken, so if I will not know English, then I may face communication problem with regional people of that region which will loses my ability.

Different seminars are held on different ports of country and abroad on recent progress in the field of computers. English is used as a language of communication in these seminars. Due to lack of know about English, I don't attain these seminars.

I am from Hindi speaking belt and my mother tongue is Hindi. So, I am weak in English. It is must for me to improve my English language.

I need a Course in Remedial English because I don't know as much English that I can talk to others and understand them. English is the most important language because this language is the only way of communication at international level. By knowing English we understand the other country man's view and problems as well as ideas. When we can understand the other's ideas then we will progress. Hence English is fundamental to our development. Since I have studied in English classes where level of omission of any words:

I have taken classes in English at the university level, and I have also practiced speaking English with native speakers.

I have found that the ability to communicate effectively in English is crucial for success in many aspects of life. Whether it is in academic settings, professional environments, or personal interactions, the ability to express oneself clearly and effectively in English is a valuable skill.

I believe that learning a new language is an enriching experience that broadens one's perspective and opens up new opportunities. It is a continuous process that requires dedication and practice, but the rewards are immeasurable.

In conclusion, I am grateful for the opportunity to learn English and I will continue to practice and improve my skills in this important language.

I am belonging from a rural area. It is very backward as it is under-developed area. And the English has never been a language of daily talking.
I have read English words (A, B, C, ...) after the tenth classes and it is only necessary during the sixth to fifth—tenth classes. I feel always lack of interaction because of my inability to speak the English. First, when I come at 3:10, I feel very nervous always. So I need always a English speaking course since admission in 3:10.

Now I feel that if we do not talk in English we can do anything in our future.

I can read English hundred percent but understand only fifty percent and speak only 20 percent but not with confidence.

I always lack of confidence. in speaking the English. I am also very weak in understanding in English. Because of lack of English speaking I speak very short due in the my classes.

I think these handicap does on English is because of my unfavorable environment. So there I request that if I will got the admission in English remedial course I feel that I will definitely speak English and I would be well and can have a good understanding of English language.

So I request that please enrolled in your English remedial course.

Thank you

Answer: English subject has more importance today. Its importance is very popular among world citizens. Every member of the world wants to know English language today because English subject is an important subject nowadays. If a man does not know English conversation, he feels very bored.
Because in society today, because English language and literature is known as a standard language. Those who know English spoken, his personality is understood very high in society.

I am convinced and want to learn and to know more and develop myself in next two and train English language because there are no books in Hindi language whom we can conclude. In Hindi Medium, there are no sufficient materials to improve our knowledge, but I want to speak and learn English language.

When I first took admission in M.A. Inter on Jadavpur University college, I met a boy who spoke in English language, and I felt very difficult to understand and talk in English. So, I just to improve in spoken English and just I want to attend English Remedial Course.

I belong to Western State and there are some politicians who want to remove English subject from courses, this is not compulsory to pass in English. If a candidate is failure in English Subject there is no objection to Other Education Board and it gives result to candidate. In this condition How can I learn and speak in English. Also, I have came to complete M.A. wake them if I learn and speak English language it can be very nice to me.

If a man is not know English conversation, he feels very bareness

English is one of the most popular languages in the world. It is an international language also. Nowadays it becomes a tradition that who knows English that understand a educated and civilized person. It is an excellent medium for conveying thoughts. In perspective of I.WW. where everybody speak English and I feel very difficult because I'm unable to understand their speech that what they say. Not only in the field of educational place but also in the common people it has good effect. Mostly the new inventions either in the field of science and technology or in the field of economics or politics etc. every place demand English. Mostly government work is also done in the language of English. In the field of education these books which are written in the English are understood more authentic and genuine because mostly writer who want to write anything the choose English as a better communication. It helps us in the every field of life e.g. political, technical, social, economical, cultural etc. Whenever I go to either foreign country or in India commonly South India, who don't understand english other language except English and their local language, so without knowledge of English we suffer severe difficulties. In foreign country there is no other option except English. In the field of Information technology which is one of the most common avenue for communication it also demands knowledge of English, and also in the field of Computers the most software are available in the English and network and internet is also connected in the language of English. It means it's very common that it required on the every turn of life.

So when I informed that there is a remedial English course which is conduct by our university then I from decide that I also take the class, because I described the parameter above which induced me to take remedial course.english course

In my opinion, English is present everywhere in the global world. English is spoken by an individual in an age of globalization and computer age.
can't isolated himself from expert, so

Therefore today English is gaining its popularity throughout the world.

Not only this, if a man who wants to continue to study for higher education every good book is available in English.

Here, I am in CSRD where each class are in English medium and being an student of Hindi medium I hesitate to speak in my friends and even I couldn't speak a single word before teachers. And for me English is important as other things because myself I want to English has become an international language today. It also serves as a communication language. To know general awareness and different types of current issues and to live in a civilization, every people need to know English language, to exchange their thoughts and cultures.

It is my unfortunate that I have not got a good and remedial knowledge of English, but there are so... reasons behind it. From the beginning I studied in a Hindi medium school, and there were not good teachers which thought me English better, and other problems took place with me when I chose Arabic language in graduation. That's why I have not well knowledge of English.

I need a course in Remedial English because of some following reasons:

1. At this time I have a subject of Translation from Arabic to English and vice versa, in my M.A. (Arabic). After completing this my M.A., I wish a job in Saudi Embassy or Gulf Embassy, where I feel a burning need of good English to deal with different types of persons.

2. Secondly I need to join this course because English is an international language. Everybody wants to know what is going on in the world. And a student especially need about the world, and what are the international issues, and they can know if they have a knowledge of English.

3. What is what is the most important thing today Internet, Every kind of knowledge and information is on Internet, and we can not get information and know if we have not knowledge of English language.
In Jamia Millia Islamia University, we need to know a well knowledge of English speaking and writing power, because the general relation and turn is in English medium. Sometimes we feel so before because of the English knowledge shortage. That's why I want to join this Remedial English course.

If we will get this opportunity then I think that I get some thing in future and will solve my some problems related with English language. I think that after the having a good knowledge of English speaking and writing power, I will be able to achieve some good things in future, and could also to able to nation and country at international level.

There are many reasons to do remedial course in English. First of them, I have not been reading English since 1995. So this five years gap of not reading English it is the most necessary to do a remedial course. I want to talk with my friends in English but have to face more difficulties on lack of vocabulary, grammar, etc.
Particularly, in J.N.U. Campus, everyone should know speaking of English because the students come in the J.N.U. in different areas of India and their languages are different as Assami, Bengali, Telgu, Jamil, Kannara, Urdu, Rajasthani, gujratli etc. If you want to talk those people who are belonging from that regions, should to know English. English language is the source to talk with anyone. If I can't talk English then I can't speak those people who are belonging different part of the country.

I think that this remedial course will be very gainful for me. Once, I complete this course, I can speak English. So, I can not improve my English without remedial course.

Therefore, I have need to do remedial course in English.

Untouchability and Dalit Women's Oppression
Bela Malik

FIFTY years after independence ritual pollution, caste exploitation and all the other legacies of Indian civilisation that those who oppose affirmative action in the name of efficiency choose to ignore, and which those who oppose it from more prejudiced motives would like to perpetuate, are alive and well, keeping in good cheer the less polluting 'citizens' of the nation. And the images of all of these were graphically brought out at the Convention against Untouchability and Dalit Women’s Oppression, organised by the All India Democratic Women’s Association (AIDWA) on December 20, 1998 at Delhi. All that was recounted at the convention highlighted the need to address the specific problem of caste oppression compounding the burdens imposed by a generalised patriarchal exploitation. Thousand-odd dalit women from Punjab, Haryana, Rajasthan, Himachal Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and Madhya Pradesh participated in the convention, along with several guest speakers and AIDWA activists and sympathisers. The turnout of a thousand-odd was impressive.

Dalit women speakers used the forum to articulate their problems and to share the experiences of their struggles. They were from diverse backgrounds, belonged to different age groups and had varying degrees of consciousness about the gap between the reality of their socio-economic conditions and the legal rights that they notionally possess. The degree of passion expressed varied accordingly. The younger women, for instance, were more militant and less willing to tolerate the terms of their existence. The women were mainly rural, though some activists were based in urban areas. Some women were politically active and held political office at the panchayat level. Others were agricultural workers or construction labourers. Despite these differences, there were common threads running through their accounts. They narrated their experiences without hesitation, and in a wide and mutually incomprehensible variety of dialects rendering the term ‘Hindi-speaking-belt’ somewhat of a misnomer.
Affirmative Action in India and the United States
Ashwini Deshpande.

1. The Problem:
Caste in India and race in the USA are often compared for their institutional similarities, and also because these categories form the social basis on which the affirmative action program in the two countries is based. While disadvantage and discrimination produce similar outcomes for certain groups within caste- or race-divided societies, it is important to understand the differences between the two systems. If race is a system of ascriptive or color-based disparities, caste can be called a system non-ascriptive or non-color based disparities. (For a detailed discussion of the lack of a clear link between skin color and caste, see Deshpande and Darity, 2003). The caste system is prevalent primarily in the Indian subcontinent, but there are several other examples of non-color-based disparities in large parts of Asia, Africa and Europe.

Caste in India
Estimated to be over 2500 years old, the caste system has undergone many transformations, from the ancient varna system to the contemporary jati system1. The varna system divided the population initially into four and later into five mutually exclusive, endogamous, hereditary and occupation specific groups: the Brahmins, Kshatriyas, Vaisyas, Sudras and Ati-Sudras. The last two comprised all castes doing menial jobs with the latter being considered “untouchables”, in that even their presence was considered polluting and thus was to be avoided2. The three higher varnas are often referred to as “caste Hindus” (upper caste Hindus) or as “twice born”, since (the men of) these castes enter an initiation ceremony (the second birth) and are allowed to wear the sacred thread. Together, the upper castes constitute 17-18 percent of the population. The Ati-Sudras are roughly 16 percent of the population. Numerically, the largest varna is Sudra, constituting nearly half of the population.

Scientific experts agree that the Earth’s climate is changing. Climate change, more commonly known as global warming, is caused by the emission of heat trapping gases produced by vehicles, power plants, industrial processes and deforestation. As these gases build up, they act like a big blanket, over-heating the planet and threatening our health, our economy and our environment.

Research shows that the world has now become hotter than at any time during the past 1000 years. Climate models that project future conditions show that global warming will continue if emissions of heat-trapping gases continue to increase.

Earth’s Ecosystems at Risk

Global warming is changing distributions of plants and animals, population sizes, growth rates, timing of plant flowering, and timing of animal migration. It is changing the intensity and frequency of storms, droughts, and fire, raising the level of the oceans, and melting glaciers.

While land is fixed in space, the climate is not. Many of the places we protect are selected because they provide the proper habitat and climate for unique and important plants or animals. Unfortunately, given global warming, these places may no longer have the right climate for the species or communities that were the reason underlying their selection. For example, as the planet warms, Peter’s Mountain mallow in Virginia, or the California gnatcatcher in San Diego County, or wet prairies in Oregon may no longer be able to survive on the same lands where they once flourished.

Scientific research shows that heat-trapping emissions from human activities have caused most of the global warming observed over the past 50 years. In addition to those emissions, the intermingling of highways, human developments, plantations, and farms with nature has enormously circumscribed the options for nature’s response to the current warming.

Human Communities at Risk

Evidence is mounting almost daily of the dangers posed by global warming. Villages along Alaskan coastlines are literally crumbling into the sea as ice and permafrost melts away. Record-high seawater temperatures in 1998 may have killed as much as 10 percent of the world's corals, jeopardizing the survival of reef fish on which millions of coastal residents depend.

2. The year 2005 now appears to be the warmest year on record, beating out 1998 as the former record holder. NASA's Goddard Institute for Space Studies (GISS) in New York City has released its latest compendium of data from land-based weather stations, satellites and historical ship's records. The result pushes the graph at right upward again. Although everywhere on Earth reports warmer temperatures, the largest change is seen in the polar latitudes, with Alaska, Siberia, and Antarctica showing the most increased annual temperatures. According to GISS, the Earth has warmed by 0.6°C/1.08°F in the past 30 years, and 0.8°C/1.44°F in the past 100 years.

Global warming has serious consequences for both people and nature. The Nature Conservancy, through its Global Climate Change Initiative, is identifying and implementing strategies that will help slow the rate of global warming and to protect plants, animals and our natural environment against its inevitable impacts.
