Acknowledgement

It would not have been possible to write this PhD thesis without the help and support of the kind people around me, I would here like to express my thanks to the people who have been very helpful to me during the time it took me to write this thesis.

Above all, I would like to thank my Father, Proff. Ghanshyam Dutt Paliwal for providing unconditional love and care. I would not have made it this far without him. As he is a retired professor from Holkar Science College, Indore, he clearly understood the importance of writing a thesis and how much dedication it demands from us. And thus he has constantly supported me during my research work and has given me his valuable advice all the time.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. Meena Buddhisingar Rathod, for her excellent guidance, caring, patience, and providing me with an excellent atmosphere for doing research. Her good advice, support has been invaluable on both an academic and a personal level, for which I am extremely grateful.

She has the attitude and the substance of a genius. She continually and convincingly conveyed a spirit of adventure in regard to research and scholarship, and an excitement in regard to teaching. Without her guidance and persistent help this thesis would not have been possible.

I appreciate all her contributions of time and ideas to make my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating. The joy and enthusiasm she has for this research was contagious and motivational for me, even during tough times in the Ph.D. pursuit. I am also thankful for the excellent example she has provided as a successful woman professor.

I would especially like to thanks the Director and Dean of School of Education, Indore, Dr. H. R. Pal, Dr. S.K. Tyagi and Dr. D.N.Sansanwal respectively for supporting me when I needed them during this research work.
