I would like to express my deepest appreciation and thank to my valuable and supportive friend and lab-mate Dr. Arpana Agrawal who withstood and co-operated in every situation whether good or bad. Her moral support and encouragement always resulted in a fruitful outcome. Her sincerity and dedication has taught me a lot. Without her support all these years, this achievement was difficult. For her, my mere expression of thanks does not suffice.

Last and most importantly, I thank my dearest and loving parents for being there with me and bearing so much pain for me to accomplish my aim. Their prayer and support both moral as well as financial for me was what sustained me so far. My father, who have been patiently waiting for this day to come, without his moral support and encouragements at every time, I would not have completed the thesis. He always encouraged me to strive hard for my goal in life and supported me. Without the unconditional support, affection, love and prayers of my mother I could not have grown as sound as today. Especially, I want to thank my younger brother Sumeer, my sisters, Tahira, Nahida, Irfana, and Shahida; cousins, Aamir, Saifeer, Sajad and Shahzada for their love, support and encouragement that have helped me to overcome many difficulties during my development and make it to this point in life.
