ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to everyone who helped me during my research tenure and preparation of the thesis and whose contribution has helped me in various aspects of the research. This thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my family, well-wishers, my friends and colleagues.

Words are too meagre a medium to express my gratitude and offer my most sincere and humble regards to my esteemed and learned research supervisor, mentor and humblest legal luminary Prof. (Dr.) Devinder Singh, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh for his unparalleled and excellent guidance, continuous encouragement and visionary advice on wide range of issues in completion of my Thesis successfully. I could not have imagined a better legal luminary and research guide for my doctoral study. I owe my thanks to his inspiration and rigorous guidance. He gave me full liberty to encroach upon his time even to his inconvenience for which I will always remain indebted to him.

At this moment of accomplishment, I would like to pay homage to my co-guide Dr. Babita Devi Pathania, Asst. Professor, Department of Laws, Panjab University for providing me her kind help, continuous guidance, support and constant motivation during this work. She has always been kind and supportive to me throughout this research work.

I am grateful to Prof. Meenu Paul, Chairperson, Department of Laws, Panjab University for her encouragement and good wishes. I also extend my sincere feelings of gratitude to the revered faculty members of Department of Laws, Panjab University for providing valuable suggestions, constructive criticism and enlightening thoughts to boost the quality of this research work.

I express my immense debt to Prof. Kamaljeet Singh, Department of Laws, Himachal Pradesh University for his visionary advice and persistent guidance throughout the research work.

I extend my sincere thanks and regards to Prof. (Dr.) Rajesh Bahuguna, Dean & Principal, Law College Dehradun, Uttarakhand University, Dehradun for giving me ample time and space for completion of my research work. I am also extremely thankful to Professor (Dr.) Poonam Rawat, Head of Department, Law College Dehradun, Uttarakhand University, Dehradun for providing me every kind of help, support and co-operation during writing of the thesis and without whose support this work would not have been completed within time. My sincere regards and thanks to all my friends and colleagues of Law College Dehradun, Uttarakhand University, Dehradun, for encouraging and motivating me to pursue my goal.

It gives me immense pleasure to extend my profound thanks to Sh. Rakesh Mohindra, Assistant Librarian, Sh. Hans Raj, Superintendent, Sh. Raj Kumar and Sh. Pardeep Kumar, Senior Assistant, Department of Laws, Panjab University for their kind cooperation. I also place on record my sincere thanks to the staff members of A.C. Joshi Library, Panjab University and staff members of Law Library, Himachal Pradesh University.
I am also thankful to Mr. Mukul Rawat, Librarian and Mr. Durgesh Rankoti, Assistant Librarian, Law College Dehradun for providing me every sort of help and cooperation during writing of the thesis. My heartful thanks to the staff members of Library, Indian Law Institute and members of International Environmental Law Research Centre and Centre for Science and Environment.

I am grateful to my colleagues and friends whose words and actions contributed a lot in one or the other way in the efforts made by me in doing this study. I place on record my sincere thanks to Mr. Mukesh Saini, my friend and research scholar (Ph.D.), Department of Laws, Panjab University for his cooperation and support particularly during my visits to the Panjab University despite his inconvenience.

I am highly indebted to my friend and senior colleague Dr. Vinod Kumar Associate Professor, Department of Laws, Graphic Era University, Dehradun for persistent encouragement, cooperation and healthy criticism during the study. He remained an icon of perfection in my research work.

I would like to express my recognition and indebtedness to my friend and senior colleague Dr. V. Bhuweshwari, Assistant Professor, Law College Dehradun for consistent cooperation and moral support. It would not have been accomplished without her kind support who constantly nurtured my ability with a little push and encouragement.

I often wonder if one gets to see ‘God’ in the mortal life they might be like parents who shower their blessings on me. From the depth of my heart, I bow my head to the feet of my father, Sh. Anup Sharma and mother Smt. Kamlesh Sharma, to express my gratitude. The blessings, help and guidance given by them from time to time shall carry me a long way in the journey of life on which I am about to embark. I can neither compensate nor reimburse this debt.

I would like to express my respect and gratitude to my elder brother Sh. Ramit Sharma, sister-in-law Smt. Namita Sharma and all relatives who have extended their wishes and support for the completion of my course.

I would also like to acknowledge my special debt to my loving, caring and supportive wife Dr. Anupam Sharma, for her astute suggestions, love, and affection without whose encouragement, co-operation and good wishes this task would have been impossible. I am also highly indebted to my One and half year old son who has to bear my absence during this research work.

I also express my immense debt to the learned authors whose work I have consulted and have been listed in the bibliography. I am also thankful to the persons managing and working on different useful websites which I have consulted during the study for providing access to rich material on Water and the laws.

Last...... but not the least, I bow my head to the “Almighty”, who gave me the strength and courage to fulfill my dream by showering his blessings on me. May the keep showering his choicest blessings forever.
