The submission of this Ph.D. thesis gives me immense pleasure, satisfaction and unique sense of accomplishment. I have not traveled in a vacuum in this journey. Of course it is a fact that such endeavour is never possible without the help of many persons in one way or the other. I take this opportunity to convey my sincere thanks and heart-felt gratitude to all those who helped me to make this task possible in its present fruitful form.

At this moment of accomplishment, first of all I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. E.V. Ramasamy, Associate Professor, School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam who was most kind enough to me to be my Supervisor for this research study. I am deeply grateful for his excellent guidance, constant attention, critical suggestions, whole-hearted cooperation and support. His erudition and rich experience shaped the course of the research and sharpened its outcome.

I gratefully acknowledge Dr. C T Aravindakumar, Director, School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam for the valuable guidance and advice given to me during this work.

My deepest gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. A.P. Thomas, Director, ACESSD, School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam for his meaningful advice, encouragement and constant support given to me during my Ph D tenure. He has always been caring, a source of wisdom and motivation.

The road to my plant parasitic nematodes studies started with training at College of Agriculture Vellayani, Thiruvananthapuram. I take this opportunity to say my special words of thanks to Dr. Sheela M.S., Associate Professor, College of Agriculture Vellayani for providing very good training on plant parasitic nematodes, culture maintenance, providing plant parasitic nematode culture and building confidence in me to start my work on plant parasitic nematodes.

My heartfelt thanks and indebtedness to Dr. H Krishna Iyer and Prof. Vinayachandran, Associate professor, Govt. College, Kottayam for their help in the statistical analysis of the data.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. Mahesh Mohan, Dr. Sylas V P., Ms. P. Padma, Dr. Usha K. Aravind, Dr. Harsha H T., and all other staff members of School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam for their encouragement and support.

I also express my sincere thanks to all my fellow lab mates, especially Ms. Philomena C J., Mr. ShyleshChandran M.S., Ms. Bini K. John, Ms. NasheedaBeevi, Ms. Soumya O S., Ms.Vibija C P., Ms. Bindu. T. Abraham, Mr. Rakesh P.S., Mr. Ignatious Antony, Ms. Smitha Chandran and Mr. Joby Paul for their whole hearted co-operation and helps during the course of this work. Timely and valuable services of all my friends and other members of the SES family are also heartily acknowledged.
I would like to thank Mr. Salahudeen, P.O., Mr. Abubakar Librarians, School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, My acknowledgement will never be complete without the special mention of Librarians of College of Agriculture Vellayani, Thiruvananthapuram, Rubber research Institute, Kottayam and Central Plantation Crops Research Institute, Kayamkulam for providing the library facilities for my research work.

I am grateful to Mr. Santhosh K.T., Mr. Subhash T.K. and all other non-teaching staff of School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam for all their help and cooperation.

I would like to acknowledge all the teachers I learnt from since my childhood, I would not have been here without their guidance, blessing and support. My special thanks to all my teachers in the Department of Zoology, St Thomas College Kozhencherry for their understanding, motivation and blessings.

With immense pleasure, I express my sincere thanks to all my colleagues in Govt. College Kottayam for the help extended to me during this period. My special thanks also go to Prof. Anitha Abraham (Assistant Professor, Maharaja’s College, Ernakulam) for her sisterly love and affection showed to me.

I take this opportunity to sincerely acknowledge the University Grant Commission, Government of India, New Delhi, for providing financial assistance in the form of Junior Research Fellowship which buttressed me to perform my work comfortably.

I would like to pay high regards and love to my beloved mother and all my family members for their blessings, helps and wishes for the successful completion of this work and I also dedicate this thesis to my father who pours his blessings upon me from heaven.

Finally, my special thanks with love to my husband Mr. Ligi Menon, my best friend and great companion. Understanding me best as a Ph.D himself, his unconditional love, support and motivation helped me for the successful completion of this work.

Above all, I praise The Almighty for the unfailing source of blessings and strength for the successful completion of my research work.
