ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost praises and thanks to the God, the Almighty, for His showers of blessings throughout my research work to complete this research work successfully.

It is with immense gratitude that I acknowledge the support and help of my research guide Dr. Sandhya R.S, Assistant Professor, SGTDS, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam for giving me the opportunity of doing research and providing invaluable guidance throughout this research. Her vision, sincerity and motivation have deeply inspired me. Her inspiring and enlightening guidance and persuasions at various stages of my research were my major guidelines to carry out the work in the present problem of my research. I am deeply indebted to her for having given me the complete supervision of my work.

I am indebted to Dr. Nirmala Devi D, Professor & Director, SGTDS for her support and valuable suggestions throughout my work. I am indeed thankful to her for having given me the facilities for carrying out my doctoral research. I wish to thank all the other members of teaching and non teaching faculty of SGTDS for their help rendered for the completion of the thesis. Special thanks to all my teachers for giving support and guidance for the completion of the thesis work.
It gives me great pleasure in acknowledging the support and help of the authorities of Help age India, Kochi, Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum, for giving permission to use their library.

I am thankful to the Director, HOD, faculty members, and students of Division of Health Management, University college of Medical Education, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, who had given me academic encouragement during my thesis work. I am much obliged to the PhD scholars in SGTDS, Mahatma Gandhi University for their help and support. My sincere thanks are due to the authorities of Trivandrum, Kottayam and Calicut Corporation and also to my respondents of the study without which the study could never have been completed.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to my mother, my in-laws, my brother and family for their prayers, support and encouragement in my present venture. Last but not the least a special feeling of gratitude to my husband Mr. Joseph Peter. I am indeed thankful to him for the continuous and intimate encouragement and support throughout my attempt during research needs special attention. But for his help and encouragements my desire in the present venture of this research would not have possible. Hence I am deeply thankful to him. Finally my special thanks to all who helped me directly or indirectly for the completion of this work.
