LIST OF TABLES

Table one: Advantages and disadvantages of product approach 19
Table two: Advantages and disadvantages of process based writing instruction 23
Table three: Comparison between the process and the product approaches to writing 25
Table four: A comparison between the process and genre approach 32
Table five: Examples of Genre 50
Table six: Perspectives on genres 58
Table seven: Steps involved in action research 77
Table eight: Personal profile of the learners 101
Table nine: Reading English newspaper/s 102
Table ten: Importance of English 104
Table eleven: Reasons for learning English 105
Table twelve: Importance of knowledge of English 105
Table thirteen: Language items focused in the classroom 106
Table fourteen: Difficulties in learning English 106
Table fifteen: Most difficult skills 107
Table sixteen: Importance of writing in academic context 107
Table seventeen: Support provided for the development of academic writing 109
Table eighteen: Learners’ process of writing 111
Table nineteen: Profile of the teachers 117
Table twenty: Aspects of language practice in the ESL context 117
Table twenty one: Practice of genre writing 117
Table twenty two: Types of essays taught in the classroom 117
Table twenty three: Types of writing learners need 119
Table twenty four: Classification of errors made by the learners 137

Table twenty five: A comparison of errors and words the number of words used in pre and post-intervention test 162

Table twenty six: A comparison of total errors in pre and post-intervention test 164

Table twenty seven: A comparison of mean scores of pre and post-intervention test (formal letter writing) 165

Table twenty eight: A comparison of pre and post-intervention test scores (letter formal writing) 166

Table twenty nine: A comparison of errors and number words in pre and post-intervention test 170

Table thirty: A comparison of total errors from pre and post-intervention test 172

Table thirty one: A comparison of pre and post-intervention test mean scores (paragraph writing) 173

Table thirty two: A comparison of pre and post-intervention test scores (paragraph writing) 173

Table thirty three: A comparison of errors of learners’ written scripts in pre and post intervention test (essay writing) 177

Table thirty four: A comparison of errors between pre and post-intervention test (essay writing) 179

Table thirty five: A comparison of the mean scores of pre and post-intervention test (essay writing) 180

Table thirty six: A comparison of pre and post-intervention test scores (essay writing) 182