ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, my head down to ‘Almighty’ who has blessed me with astonishing opportunity, skill and potential. Apart this, the long cherished dream of mine would not have seen this day of light without the enormous cooperation and colossal support of outstanding and inspiring individuals both from within the university and outside of it, whom I express my sincere gratitude to all of them. I would like to give thanks to my teachers, family members and all my friends because without their support I may not able to reach this position to submit this Ph.D. thesis. They have always extended their hands whenever I needed and gives support in every walk of my life. I sincerely thank also to God for blessing me with such good teachers, good family members and good friends.

It gives me immense pleasure to express my heart-felt gratitude to Professor Ashok Kumar Kalia, Department of Education, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak for having always been extremely benignant and ungrudging in having an unforbidden access to his acumen in the discipline of education. I am particularly indebted to him for the propelling and persuasive guidance, painstaking and untiring involvement with the every line of this study, as also for his valuable suggestions and advice for perpetual modifications and improvements. I am reminded of Jonathan Swift’s feelings about a pedagogue- “He has the vision which is the art of seeing things which are invisible”. I can never adequately express my feelings for him as without his able, learned and spontaneous guidance, the present work would not have seen completion. I find myself highly privileged to have worked under his supervision on such an innovative and highly relevant topic in Education.

I would like to offer my deepest gratitude and acknowledgment to Professor Madhu Gupta, Head, Department of Education, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak for lending her treasured, material and purposeful suggestions for devising a befitting framework for the present study and also for her constructive criticism, excellent advice and insightful support. I am lucky to have an opportunity to discuss with her on matters related to the research and exchanged views.

I owe my special gratitude to Professor Indira Dhull, Department of Education and Professor Hemant Lata Sharma, Dean, Faculty of Education and other faculty members of the Department of Education of the University for their Continuous Support and warm cooperation at every stage of the completion of the present research study.

I am equally grateful to Mrs. Suman Kalia for bearing the inconveniences caused to her as a consequential to the involvement of her husband Professor Ashok Kumar Kalia, my supervisor and mentor, for this research project.

I would like to express special thanks to Dr. Satish Malik, Head Librarian, Central Library, MDU, Rohtak for his guidance. Interaction with him turned out to be very valuable.

I express my gratitude to the Principals, Teachers and Students of all the sampled schools for co-operation and providing me an opportunity to collect the sample for the study.

I can never forget to mention the contribution of my Family Members, My Late. Grandfather Mr. Nanak Chand and My Grandmother Mrs. Devki for their Blessings, love, care and inspirations. I do not know how to candour the contribution of My Parents- Mr. Madan Gopal Kathuria and Mrs. Krishna Devi; My Late Father-in-Law Mr. Chander Mohan, My Mother-in-Law Mrs. Kamlesh Shah, My husband Mr. Saurabh Shah, My little Daughter Vedanjali Shah for their all kind of support towards the fulfilment of this project. Had they not taken the entire burden of domestic responsibilities on themselves and provided a loving and disciplined environment, this task would have proved arduous.

At this movement of pleasure, I am also beholden to My Sister Goldi, My Brother Jatin Kathuria, and My Sister-in-Law Neha for their continuous support and encouragement.

Above all, once again, I raise my heart, expressing my deepest sense of gratitude to my creator who gave me enormous and undeserved opportunities in life..........

........Him that is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, unto him be glory throughout all ages, forever and ever.
