I consider myself to be very fortunate to have Dr. Debasis Dash as my advisor. One on the most important thing he has taught me is that simple thinking can be much more effective that complex thinking. His open minded attitude and excellent interpersonal skills create a great growth environment for any student. I can only hope to get more advisors like him in the future.

Thanks to Prof. S K. Brahmachari for creating the wonderful infrastructure at I.G.I.B. from scratch.

Heartfelt thanks to C.S.I.R. for providing the fellowships.

Thanks have to go to Dr. Mythily Ganapathi, Dr. Vinod Scaria, Kuljeet Singh Sandhu, Dr. Sauvik Maiti and Manoj Hariharan for providing various scientific ideas during the discussions. Dr. Mythily Ganapathi was particularly helpful in providing ideas and writing earlier manuscripts. Kuljeet Singh Sandhu provided lots of help in PDB database analysis during the work. Without the discussions with above mentioned people and Dr. Kangkan Halder, Dr. Tav Preetesh Singh, Mr. Vikas Pandey and Santosh Kumar Upadhaya, the Ph.D. for me would not mean Doctorate of Philosophy.

Yasha Bhasin was most helpful in correcting the thesis. Meenakshi Anurag and Sakshi also helped in correcting the thesis.

Thanks are also going to friends Abid Rasheed Mattoo, Radhika Mathur, Yasha Bhasin, Amit Mehta, Abhinav Singh, Kshitij Gupta, Pallavi Samrah, Bharti Dutta, Priyanka Singh, Sumera Praveen, Niti Kumar, Nitin Kumar, Amit Sharma, Jameel Ahmad Khan, Samera Bahl, Komal Virdi, Pramod Gautam, Rajesh Pandey, Aradhita, Vinod Yadav, Prabhanshu Tripathi, Amit Mehta, Ramkrishna Thakur, Amit Yadav,

Thanks to Dr. Beena Pillai for different style of teaching.

Thanks to Dr. Peter Tompa for providing local version of their software IUPred.

Last but not the least, I thank my Hero Honda CD Dawn (DL 4S AG 8995) bike for taking care of all my travel needs throughout the Ph.D.
