ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This work under the Parenthood of Prof. Bibhuti Bhusan Mohanty, presents the most material ending of the period I spent as a Doctoral scholar in the Department of Sociology, Pondicherry University, Puducherry from 2007 to 2013. The university as well as the department has been very thought-provoking academic vibes and a grand experience for me to be a part of it. Pondicherry University deserves the best status in India so far as research is concerned. It is well admired globally as one of the best institutions in research. Its library is one of the rarest of the rare resource centre for researchers and intellectuals working in academia. The 24 hour internet facilities campus has helped me a lot in availing intellectual resources unavailable otherwise. Working on a doctoral thesis is at times a quite lone assignment, but I would be so inestimably indebted to a good number of people who have supported me in showing this work the light of the day.

In the first place my choicest and sincerest gratitude and reverence go to Prof. Bhibhuti Bhusan Mohanty, my benign supervisor for his algebraic supervision, meticulous guidance, down-to-earth cooperation and benevolent affection to make all these happen. This quest of my life and career dedicates itself only to his friendly moral support and at times affectionate chiding for any mistake or slow progress. It is a great blessing of Pondicherry University on me that I have have been blessed with such a great Guru whose moral guidance and intelectual teaching is exemplary. I feel perhaps he is the scarcest gift of my fate. His mode of scolding works magically and energise to work hard. I have been highly appreciated for presenting my research problem in different National forums. It is my astonishment that Prof. Mohanty is found to think over my research problem technically and systematically even when he used to be in his personal life. One of the potent example is that he often calls me to dictates ideas on specific parameters and fix that in specific places immediately coming from morning walk even before getting his walk shoes off.

I owe a great deal to Dr. Pritinanda Mohanty for her motherly affection, whenever I went to her house to discuss my research matters with my Sir. Her motherly interest in the progress of my research work as well as my future academic ventures was a great incentive to hasten the process. Her seriousness towards my research work and its timely submission is no less than that of mine and it makes me more active.

I deeply indebted to Prof. D. Sambandhan and Prof. P. Natarajan (Doctoral Committee members) for their sincerest and reformatory comments and suggestions in Doctoral Committee meetings and also otherwise towards improvement in the quality of my work.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. B. S. Baviskar who is no more with us for his affectionate encouragement for my work. He is greatest support to my research career is technical suggestion for writing research papers for reputed national as well as international journals. I got the seed of my research problem by going through his brilliant writings on practical rural issues. Inspite of being such a great personality, he takes keen interest to address the research related problems of mine in down-to-earth manner. I dedicate my devotion to him posthumously.

A great support has been extended to me by the faculty members and other staffs of the Department of sociology, Pondicherry University. The assistance I have got from Dr. G. Ramatirtham during my entry into the University deserves due acknowledgement. He helped me in each and every step of the entry paraphernalia by sincerest response to all my queries. Two sarpanches namely Mr. Berel Sirka (Badjharan Panchayat) and Mr. Kali charan Naik (Badjode Panchayat) have helped me a lot during my field work.
