First and foremost I thank God Almighty for making the thesis a reality. I thank, Dr. Sandhya. R. S., my research supervisor, a friend, philosopher and guide in all respect. The freedom which she gave prepared me to think about new realms of knowledge. Her timely investigations about the work progress and valuable suggestions help me a lot to complete this work without much stress.

I record my deep sense of gratitude to all the teachers in School of Social Sciences for giving a wonderful session of coursework during the initial period of this work. I bow my head in front of those intellectual giants for teaching me how to think about a topic and conduct research on it. My heartfelt thanks to the directors and all teachers of SGTDS for giving a good ambiance of research in the centre, and their valuable suggestions.

I extend my gratitude to Dr. Narayana Pillai for structuring my vague thoughts into a clear shape by giving his valuable advices. And I also thank Dr. Sara Neena for her constant encouragement and motherly affection. I have a special word of thanks to Dr. V.M Chacko for solving all my doubts in statistical analysis.

I wish to thank the librarians of Mahatma Gandhi University, SGTDS, Sanskrit University and Sahithya Academy Library Thrissur. Also thank all respondents those who filled my questionnaire without hesitation.

I also place on record my sincere thanks to my fellow researchers at SGTDS. And my special thanks to my dear friends Lakshmi, Rija, Raheena and Sreesha for being with me in all my tensions and happiness.
I want to thank my parents, in laws and all my family for their constant support and encouragement. I place on record the support and encouragement given to me by my life partner Unni, without his constant support this would not have been a reality. There is much more than words can express.
