Acknowledgement

At once the easiest and the hardest part of a thesis to write, the acknowledgements give me a chance to thank all the people who helped me get to the point where I even had a thesis to write. To anyone who falls in that category who I leave out (and I can virtually guarantee there will be at least one), I’m sorry. It’s a reflection of my faulty memory, not your contribution.

I take this opportunity to express with my deep sense of gratitude and thankfulness to my research guide Dr.B.Sangameswaran, Principal and Director Research, Adesh Institute of Pharmacy and Biomedical sciences, Bathinda, Punjab for accepting me as a doctoral student under his keen and proficient guidance in the year 2009. His intuitive insight in conceptualizing new ideas and passion for executing them meticulously has all the time fascinated me. His untiring and dedicated efforts provided sound advice throughout my Ph.D. tenure and made me to be closely associated with him. I consider myself very fortunate to work with such a disciplined and principled personality with a philosophical view, for providing constant encouragement, moral support and valuable guidance in-spite of his busiest and hectic schedule. He will always remain ideal symbol of inspiration to me throughout my life.
