Acknowledgement

This study has reached its culmination due to the support, encouragement, motivation and help of a number of individuals. At the outset I wish to thank all those who have directly or indirectly contributed in making this study what it is. Further, I wish to name a few people without the help of whom this thesis would not have been completed.

To begin with I express my deepest gratitude and most sincere thanks to my supervisor Dr. Saghir Ahmad Ansari, whose constant support and encouragement helped me all the way from the start of this study to its completion. His supervision and valuable inputs enhanced my knowledge and always kept me on my toes. In fact, it would not be out of place to mention that but for his keen interest in the progress of the work this thesis would have taken more time to be completed.

I don’t think I have got enough and appropriate words to thank my co-supervisor Prof. Valeed Ahmad Ansari. He was the person who conceived the idea of this project and but for his expert guidance, knowledge, vision and most valuable insights it would have been impossible for me to even comprehend the enormity of the task ahead of me. Inspite of his busy schedule he was always there for me. Even after my repeated shortcomings he always kept his patience. His unsurpassable knowledge in the area of finance and economics has always been an inspiration for me and will remain so till the end of my life. It was my dream to work with him in some capacity and this thesis, in many ways, has fulfilled my dream.

My thanks are also due to Prof. M Khalid Azam, Chairman Department of Business Administration for his constant support and motivation. His words of wisdom and keen interest in my work have always motivated me. My thanks are also due to all my ex-colleagues at the Department of Business Administration and Department of Agriculture Economics and Business Management for their support and encouragement. Special thanks are due to Dr. Bilal M. Khan for his efforts in the collection of the data for this study.

I express my deep gratitude to Mr. Love Yadav, my friend and ex-classmate, who helped me arrange the funds for the purchase of data for this study. Without his support things would have been very difficult for me. I also thank my friend Mr. S. Raheel Ahmad for his help in the analysis of data. He taught me the intricacies of MS Excel which made my work much easier. I also express my thanks to Mrs. Saboohi Naseem and Dr. Lubna Nafees for their regular help in the acquisition of material for this study. I would be failing in my duties if I do not mention the names of my friends Mr. Sabahuddin Khan and Mr. Amir Ali for their support and encouragement. Special mention has to be made of Amir’s wife Mayeda for her help in this thesis.

I would also like to thank my fellow research scholars at the department of Agriculture Economics and Business Management, especially my friends Mr. Shujauddin Khan and Mr. Arif Mohammad Khan. I wish to thank my Parents-In-law for their support during a most critical phase of my personal life.

The support provided by my elder sisters Mrs. Naseem Anjum, Mrs. Shameem Anjum and Mrs. Firdaus Anjum has been invaluable not only in this thesis but in my life as well. My brothers-in-law Mr. Firdaus Saleem Ansari, Mr. Noor Alam and Dr. Mohammad Faizan have always been there for me. Special thanks to Dr. Mohammad Faizan for his help in material collection. I also wish to thank my elder brother Mr. Khalid Usman Ansari for his unstinted support. I also would like to thank all my nephews and nieces, especially Mohammad Aquib Ansari for his unconditional and unselfish help.

I cannot thank my parents enough for shaping my life the way it is today. My father and mother were always concerned about my career in general and this thesis in particular. I think after the completion of this thesis I may have been able to lessen at least one of their worries. Needless to mention, my parents have always been my pillar of support.

Lastly, all my thanks are due to my wife Asma for her support and sacrifices even in the face of most daunting difficulties which I was kind enough to regularly provide her with. And in the very end to my son Rayyan for the inspiration and vigour he provides.
